

THE OHIO ALUMNUS
1948 - 1949

Digitized by the Internet Archive in 2010 with funding from Lyrasis Members and Sloan Foundation

OHIO

Alumnus

THE OHIO ALUMNUS

Published by the
Ohio University Alumni Association
Monthly, October to June, inclusive

Entered as Second Class Matter, October 3, 1923, at the Post Office at Athens, Ohio, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

Vol. XXVII November, 1948 No. 2

Editor.....CLARK E. WILLIAMS, '21

ANNUAL DUES for membership in the Ohio University Alumni Association are $3.00, of which $2.00 is for a year's subscription to The Ohio Alumnus. Memberships are renewable on October first of each year.

DISCONTINUANCE—If any subscriber wishes his Alumnus discontinued at the expiration of his subscription, notice to that effect should be sent with the subscription, or at its expiration. Otherwise it is understood that a continuance is desired.

REMITTANCE should be made by check or money order, payable to the order of the Ohio University Alumni Association, and mailed to the Association, Box 285, Athens, Ohio.

OHIO UNIVERSITY ALUMNI ASSOCIATION

(Member of the American Alumni Council)

President.....FRANK H. PALMER, '12
Vice-President...LEWIS H. MILLER, '13
Secretary.....CLARK E. WILLIAMS, '21
Treasurer....WILLIAM H. FENZEL, '18

EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE

JOSHUA R. MORTON, '05
MERRILL F. COOLEY, '16
KATHERINE BOYD SHURTLEFF, '35
MAJEL LAWRENCE, '14
K. MARK COWEN, '22
ELMA DULANEY KELLER, '20
DEWEY M. GODDARD, '25

THE FRONT COVER

As reported on page 14 the names of the two Homecoming visitors were not secured by the photographer. It is obvious, however, that neither the weather nor the trend of the game was permitted to spoil their good time. Come back again, Mr. and Mrs. X. Or is it Mr. X and Miss Y?

From the Editor's Desk . . .

IN ORDER to avoid possible disappointment, Ohio University alumni having sons or daughters, particularly the latter, whom they wish to see enrolled at their alma mater next fall should take, AT ONCE, the initial steps required for their matriculation.

Because of housing limitations Ohio University admitted but 1,550 women students this fall. Within the next few months at least three cottage dormitories now housing coeds will be torn down to make room for major university structures and there is no present prospect that this loss of housing accommodations will be compensated for by the acquisition of new ones.

There is now a waiting list of some 100 women applicants for rooms for the second semester of the current year, and Dean of Women Irma E. Voigt believes that at the rate applications are now being received the entire quota for new students NEXT FALL will have been reserved by Feb. 1, 1949, a matter of weeks only.

The need for early action on the part of men who desire to enter next fall is only slightly less urgent than for the women. It should be borne in mind, however, that while the situation with regard to university-controlled housing for men is not yet critical, the earlier the application the better the choice of accommodations.

Applications for rooms in university dormitories and other housing units are made to the dean of women or the dean of men. In the case of women an application will be considered only if accompanied by a $5 retaining fee, and, in the case of men, by a $25 retaining fee. Checks should be made payable to the STUDENTS' GENERAL FUND, OHIO UNIVERSITY.

Because of the anxiety existing among Ohio high school students concerning admissions to college, Ohio University has adopted a plan of early admissions whereby an applicant who ranks in the upper half of his class can be approved for admission on the basis of a minimum of six semesters (end of the junior year) of high school record. Application for admission to the university, however, does not constitute an application for a room.

An applicant when accepted on the six-semester plan may make application for a room reservation to the office of the dean of men or dean of women and have priority on rooms up until September first of the year before the applicant plans to enter the university. After September first, rooms not so assigned will be open to all applicants.

An out-of-state applicant, if a non-veteran, may be admitted on the basis of a minimum of six semesters if he ranks in the highest ten per cent of his high school class; if a veteran, in the highest twenty per cent. A person thus accepted may apply for a room reservation on the same basis as an Ohio resident.

When a student is accepted on a six-semester record, it is with the understanding that the student will graduate from high school and will submit a transcript of his record for his senior year.

There are several hundred "legacies" (sons and daughters of alumni) currently enrolled at Ohio University and it is sincerely hoped that other young men and women desiring to follow in the educational footsteps of their parents will not be disappointed because of tardiness of action.

Largest R. O. T. C. Since Establishment of Unit

THE 1,128 men enrolled in the Reserve Officers' Training Corps unit this fall constitute the largest military force at Ohio University since the establishment of the unit in 1935. The total number includes 1,002 basic course students and 126 advanced course students. Of the latter, 56 are in the Air Force section, 40 in the Quartermaster, and 30 in the Infantry section.

Since the fall semester of 1943 all physically fit men students, with the exception of honorably discharged veterans, between the ages of 14 and 24, inclusive, have been required to register for courses in military science and tactics.

Many of the present Ohio University cadets will be exempt from draft calls during the period of their training. To be eligible for such exemption, under regulations announced jointly by the Army and Air Force in August, these students must: (1) have enrolled in the R.O.T.C. before June 24, 1948; (2) remain in good standing in both military and school studies; and (3) serve at least two years if called for active duty. Students deferred in officer training courses are not exempt from registration under the Selective Service Act, however, and each signs an agreement to accept a commission, if tendered, at the completion or termination of his course.

Heading the local unit, as professor of military science and tactics, is Col. William H. Speidel, an infantry officer with an outstanding record of military service.

Colonel Speidel entered the Army in 1917 after graduating from Cornell University the preceding year. He is a graduate of the Army's Infantry School, Tank School, and Command and General Staff School, and was an instructor in the last named school immediately prior to going overseas in 1943.

During his four years on the other side, Col. Speidel served in England, France, and Germany. He was executive officer of the Port of Cherbourg, helping in its reclamation from the time of its capture by Allied forces in June, 1944, until the war's end. He returned to the States a year ago this fall, flying from Germany to accept his Ohio University assignment.

Second in command is Lieut. Col. Glenn H. Gardner, who is commandant of cadets, executive officer, and assistant professor of military science and tactics. Col. Gardner received a belated degree from Ohio University in 1944. He, too, had more than four years of service in Europe—as an officer of the 80th and 9th Infantry Divisions—and came directly from Germany to his present post. The Ohio University man commanded the first infantry unit to make contact with the ill-fated 101st Airborne Division, besieged at Bastogne during the Battle of the Bulge.

Hon. Col. Barbara Algeo Under on Arch of Steel

Other members of the Ohio University military staff are: (Air Force) Maj. Courtney L. Faught, Maj. Neil E. Walker, Capt. Mark G. Treat, and Capt. Carl W. Wilson; (Infantry) Capt. Robert L. McCanna, corps adjutant, and Capt. John E. Lynch; (Q.M.C.) Capt. Dale McNulty and 1st Lieut. James M. Skinner.

Perennially rating an "excellent" following Regular Army inspections, the Ohio U. unit has long been marked by a high esprit de corps. Contributing much to this spirit have been the activities of Scabbard and Blade, a national honor society for cadet officers who have proved themselves outstanding in military proficiency and academic achievement, and the Pershing Rifles, a national society founded by General John J. Pershing to encourage, preserve, and develop the highest ideals of the military profession and good citizenship.

The Military Ball, sponsored annually by Scabbard and Blade and Pershing Rifles, was held in the

(Continued on page 7)

Colonel Speidel (center) and Other R.O.T.C. Staff Officers

The "Mr. X" of American Education

Manasseh Cutler is a forgotten man in history, but school bells ring because he lobbied his "Three R's" clause into the Northwest Ordinance, adding free education to our American principles

By E. A. JACQUET and R. L. WERTMAN, '41

IN A CORNER off the tap room of the "Bunch-of-Grapes" Tavern at Boston a group of about a dozen men pushed back their chairs, stood up, and called for their cocked hats and carriages.

It was March 1, 1786, and the men had just organized the Ohio Company of Associates, pledged to negotiate the purchase of a million and a quarter acres of "western lands" from the old Colonial Congress.

Lingering behind a few moments to compare notes were the two most active promoters of the new land company — rough-and-ready General Rufus Putnam and restless Connecticut-born Manasseh Cutler, who at the age of forty-five had been occupied as a merchant, teacher, clergyman, lawyer, doctor, army chaplain and scientist.

To these two men thousands of young Americans going off to school and college this month will owe a perhaps unrealized but very definite debt. Cutler and Putnam played an energetic part in the organization of the Ohio Company; the Company's formation led to the passage of the celebrated Northwest Ordinance; and the Ordinance has brought educational opportunities to generation after generation of Americans, both in the states carved from the original Northwest Territory and throughout the midwest.

Posterity has called the Northwest, or Ohio, Ordinance of 1787 "the Great Ordinance." Daniel Webster said of it, "I doubt whether any single law of any lawyer, ancient

This excellent article on Manasseh Cutler and Rufus Putnam was written by E. A. Jacquet and Robert L. Wertman, '41, associate editors of "The Sohioan," the employee magazine of the Standard Oil Company of Ohio. It appeared in the September issue of the magazine, coincident with the opening of public schools in the state, and is reproduced in "The Ohio Alumnus" by permission of the editors.

Dr. Cutler and General Putnam, as most readers of "The Alumnus" will know, are regarded as co-founders of Ohio University.

As an undergraduate Mr. Wertman was editor of the "Ohio University Post." Since graduation he has been associated with the Publicity Department of the Cleveland Community Chest, a reporter for the "Cleveland News," a copywriter for an advertising agency, and now an editor of "The Sohioan." He has 44 months of World War II service to his credit, 19 months of which were overseas.

or modern, has produced effects of a more distinct, marked, or lasting character." And Chief Justice Salmon P. Chase expressed the conviction that "never probably in the history of the world did a measure of legislation so accurately fulfill, and yet so mightily exceed, the anticipation of its legislators."

What did the Great Ordinance have that other plans of government lacked? And what, exactly, did Manasseh Cutler and Rufus Putnam, promoters of a vast privately-owned land tract in the Ohio wilderness have to do with it? Here's the story:

One of the pressing problems facing the new American nation after the close of the Revolutionary War was the formulation of a policy for the administration and settlement of the extensive wilderness lands lying north and west of the Ohio River and designated by the name of Northwest Territory. Many veterans of the war, and others with claims against the government, were demanding that they be allotted lands in settlement of their claims. Already there was a scattered population of a few thousands but no real government had been established in the Territory and no organized settlement had been attempted. Large-scale colonization first required the establishment of law and order.

As early as 1776 the disposal of these western lands occupied the attention of various Continental Congresses, some of whose members realized that in the control of these lands lay also the ultimate political destiny of the entire "Ohio Country," comprising what is now Michigan, Indiana, Ohio, Wisconsin and Illinois. At the south, west and northwest the territory was still bordered by lands under foreign control and there was uneasy fear that this control, if extended into the Ohio region, would be in position to dominate the newly born republic of the United States. It was vital therefore to the future expansion and security of the young American nation that these lands be settled by freedom-loving colonists under a democratic system in the American pattern.

Massachusetts, Virginia, Connecticut and New York held claims to the region under their ancient charters from the British Crown. Once these states had been persuaded to cede their rights to the Federal government, every session of the Colonial Congress had before it consideration of bills or ordinances concerning the division and government of these lands. It was 1787 before these discussions crystallized into action, and this came about largely through the activity of the Ohio Company, one of several similar groups which at that period were organized to finance land purchasing and undertake colonization in the various border areas.

The use of a private or semi-public organization to settle part of the public domain was then a common and accepted method of colonization. The opportunity it offered homesteaders for settlement, the possibility of securing for the government needed public revenue through the sale of lands, and the hope of private gain on the part of energetic promoters, were commonly combined with successful results, as in the cases of the East India Company and Hudson's Bay Company.

Dr. Manasseh Cutler

The Five States of the Northwest Territory

Cutler and Putnam, who had both served in the Revolution, were in position to know and expedite the demands of the ex-soldiers that they be allowed to settle the new country. In January, 1786, the two had arranged a meeting of those who wished to participate in a plan for settling the Ohio region. Notices were issued "to officers and soldiers of the late war" and to "other good citizens who might be interested." The organization of the Ohio Company at the Bunch of Grapes tavern followed, and the task of negotiating the purchase of 1,500,000 acres of land in what is now southeastern Ohio, was, by general consent of the other directors of the Ohio Company, given to Cutler because of his recognized abilities as a tactful and skillful expediter. Putnam, at the same time, was designated to go to Ohio and prepare the settlement at Marietta for the expected homesteaders.

It would be hard to conceive a more ideal "team" to make a success of the Ohio settlement. The two men were wholly unlike in their personal characteristics. Cutler was the bold projector of plans. Putnam was the "pusher" who completed them. Putnam was a soldier; Cutler a diplomat and politician. Putnam was a surveyor and engineer and builder; Cutler an organizer and administrator. Cutler, from his New England parsonage, envisioned and arranged the means to the end; Putnam saw the end and in the wilderness on the banks of the Ohio carried out the details.

Going to New York, where the Colonial Congress was in session, Cutler displayed untiring energy and considerable finesse in successfully pressing for passage of a bill authorizing sale of the tract to the Ohio Company. At the same time Cutler insisted that the Congress settle without further delay on a suitable system of government for the territory. The kind of government to be instituted in the region was a very important consideration to the associates in the Ohio Company and to all settlers who contemplated making their homes there. For, as Cutler told Congress, "If we venture our all . . . we must know beforehand what kind of foundations we are to build on." They had to know whether the country was to be slave or free; and have assurance the region would never revert to foreign control.

On July 11, 1787, a committee of the Colonial Congress reported out "An Ordinance for the Government of the Territory of the United States Northwest of the River Ohio." Dr. Cutler appears to have had little to do with the framing of the Ordinance as originally worded, but he was supplied with a copy of the preliminary draft by the committee, with the request to insert any suggestions and amendments which in his judgment appeared necessary and desirable. As finally drafted, the Ordinance contained all his amendments save one, and in that form was given a final reading and passed on July 13, 1787.

Beginning with Magna Carta, the Anglo-Saxon race has a record for producing unique political documents which have sharply altered the direction of history. In America there have been the Mayflower Compact, the Declaration of Independence, the Bill of Rights, the Emancipation Proclamation. And here was the Great Ordinance, struck off in a similarly inspired moment, shaping the destiny of a vast and as yet non-settled domain for all time and having within it basic provisions of free government so far-sighted, so novel, and so well defined that they were to affect the ultimate form of the Constitution itself.

Like earlier colonial constitutions, and the Constitution of the United States, the Ordinance re-affirmed and guaranteed the basic rights of representative government including freedom of speech, assembly and worship; trial by jury; sanctity of person, property and contract; and it prohibited slavery in any state or states which might in the future be created from the original Territory.

But side by side with these recognized essential safeguards of liberty the Great Ordinance added another that has made it an unique and immortal political document in its own right—namely, a provision forever assuring to the people of the new Territory the benefits and enlightenment of knowledge through public education.

"Knowledge being necessary to good government and the happiness of mankind," it stated, "schools and the means of education shall (within its boundaries) forever be encouraged."

This historic pronouncement concerning education, as well as the provisions relating to freedom of worship and the prohibition of slavery, are generally credited to Manasseh Cutler. He himself acknowledged his direct authorship of the clause on education. Predicated upon this clause was the allotment in the Ohio Company contract of "two townships to be given perpetually for the purposes of an university." This provision set the basic pattern and foundation for the establishment of the system of "land grant" colleges throughout the states made from the original Northwest Territory — colleges which have been the glory of these states and have brought public education to millions of their sons and daughters.

General Rufus Putnam

The university so established in pioneer Ohio — first of these land grant colleges — was the present Ohio University at Athens, originally named the American Western University, and now in its 144th year. Cutler, in drawing up a charter for this pioneer college, consulted university charters in this country and in Europe. "None," he commented, "appear to me to accord with a principle so liberal and extensive as I think ought to be the foundation of the constitution of this university."

Written before the American Bill of Rights was enacted, the Ohio Ordinance, as the first organic act prepared by the then new government of the United States for any of its territories, ranks both with the Bill of Rights and the Constitution as a resounding expression of the enlightened political philosophy of our entire American nation. It established the permanent pattern for America's administration of public lands. And, as the United States pushed its frontiers ever westward to the Pacific, it provided a guiding frame of precedent for setting up within the territories our typically American system of free public education for all citizens.

Education, which at Manasseh Cutler's insistence was given permanent support in the Great Ordinance, has found universal acceptance in the century and a half since his day. Democracy's need for informed citizens has built magnificent halls and towers on many a fair campus far beyond the extent even of his prophetic imagination. Our schools and colleges have experimented widely and broadened the aims, scopes and methods of education far beyond the simple "three R's" of that early time. But now, as then, education's highest function remains its role as the corollary and buttress of free government amid free people. It is because Cutler, Putnam and other far-sighted leaders in the settlement of the Northwest Territory saw this truth so clearly and had it written into the Territory's first pattern of government that we honor them today and revere the surviving evidence of their foresighted planning and handiwork.

Covered Wagon In 1938 Northwest Territory Celebration

In another article in the September Sohioan, "Ohio . . . Empire Within a Republic," Mr. Jacques wrote, in part, as follows:

"The first commonwealth to be created from the forested wilderness of the Northwest Territory, Ohio drew its pioneer settlers from the East, the North and the South. Down the Ohio River, over the old National Trace, up through the Cumberland Gap, across the Alleghenies, and by way of the Great Lakes came the Connecticut Yankee, the Massachusetts Puritan, the Pennsylvania Quaker, the Church-of-England Virginian, the Maryland Catholic, the Kentucky Baptist, the Carolina Scotch-Irish Presbyterian, New York Dutch, Old World Frenchmen and Swedes. Spilling over the Appalachian wall from the Atlantic seaboard to take up the rich Ohio lands this conglomerate of pioneer peoples, with their widely divergent cultures, met and fused in Ohio. Here was America's first great melting pot, and it created what has been called the first truly typical American.

"Ohio has more colleges and universities than any foreign nation, including the entire British Empire. Men and movements from Ohio campuses have frequently swayed the fate of our country and turned the tide of our national history. It has been said that Ohio and Ohio-schooled people have educated all America and trained its thinking."

Ohio University Cutler Hall Rededication in October, 1947

LIGHTING EXPERT ATTENDS
I. C. I. MEETINGS IN PARIS

Arthur A. Brainerd, '15, director of lighting service for the Philadelphia Electric Co., attended the first postwar meeting of the International Commission on Illumination held in Paris during the past summer. He was accompanied by Mrs.

Arthur A. Brainerd

Brainerd, who was Zella Knoll, '14, before her marriage.

The international body, which, in peace times, meets at three-year intervals, had last met at the Scheveningen, Holland, in 1939. The Holland meetings were also attended by Mr. and Mrs. Brainerd during which the former, then executive secretary, and now president, of the United States National Committee of the I. C. I., presented a paper entitled "Studies in Actual Seeing Problems and the Effect of Lighting on Scholarship."

Before going to Paris this summer Mr. Brainerd attended the annual convention of the British Illuminating Engineering Society at Harrogate and, with his wife, enjoyed a vacation in England and Scotland. "In Paris," he reports, "we had a glorious time—worked all day and were entertained all night."

The Philadelphia lighting engineer was largely instrumental in establishing the present five-type International Classification of lighting units. He also developed the first installation successfully combining mercury tubes and incandescent lamps in a decorative fixture, the first installation using an ornamental pylon as a major source of lighting flux, and the first lighting installation using the waste heat to heat a building.

Residents of Norwood, Pa., the Brainerds are the parents of a daughter, Mrs. Edward V. Kintz (Elizabeth Brainerd, '39), Canton, and a son, Henry.

WEDGEWOOD PLATES NOT AVAILABLE UNTIL APRIL

Disappointing in the extreme is the word recently received by officers of the Ohio University Fund concerning the probable delivery date of the commemorative plates that are on order from Wedgwood's famed potteries in England.

The 10½-inch dinner plates, decorated with an early-day sketch of Cutler Hall encircled by an attractive Trent border, were first promised for early fall delivery. The Boston representative of Josiah Wedgwood & Sons, Ltd., now reports that "the goods will not be ready for despatch until towards the end of April next year."

PICTURE CREDITS

Credit for pictures taken by Ohio University student photographers and appearing in this issue is acknowledged to the following:

Cover page—Arthur Bean, Cambridge; page 3 (honorary colonel)—Ralph Meermans, Lakewood; page 14 and page 19 (McCutcheon)—Charles Stewart, Tucson, Ariz.; and page 13—John D. Greensmith, Olmsted Falls.

LARGEST ROTC

(Continued from page 3)

Men's Gym on November 12 and was featured by the presentation of Barbara Algeo (see picture), Athens sophomore, as honorary colonel. In Miss Algeo's court were Janet Ingerham, Athens, Norma Kodes, Cleveland, and Margaret Soltesz, Yorkville.

Cadet officers for the current year include Orin D. Wright, Athens, lieutenant colonel, and the following majors—Harry R. Collins, Ft. Wayne, Ind.; Eugene R. Gyurko, Toledo; Robert E. Earhart, Chillicothe; and James E. Hadsell, Martins Ferry.

In the staff picture on page 3 the officers, left to right, are: Lieut. Skinner, Capt. McCanna, Lieut. Col. Gardner, Capt. Wilson, Col. Speidel, Capt. Treat, Maj. Faught; Capt. McAnulty, and Capt. Lynch. Because of illness, Major Walker was not present when the picture was taken.

"MARY LIB" HUCK NAMED
HOME SERVICE DIRECTOR

Mary Elizabeth Huck, '44, Lowell, is the new chief "Betty Newton" of The Ohio Fuel Gas Company. Her new title is general director of the Home Service Department, with offices in Columbus.

Miss Huck, or "Mary Lib," as she was known by her campus friends, joined The Gas Company immediately following graduation and served as supervisor of research in the Home Service Department until 1947, when she was named field supervisor in a territory which covers approximately one half of Ohio.

Mary Elizabeth Huck

Holder of a Bachelor of Science in Home Economics degree she is a member of Phi Upsilon Omicron, home economics honorary society; treasurer of the Ohio Home Economics Association; and a former chairman of the Columbus Home Economics and Business Group.

In her new position, Miss Huck will direct the work of the 30 home economists of Ohio Fuel, each of whom serves professionally under the name of "Betty Newton." They assist home makers in getting the best service from modern gas appliances, cooperate with home economics teachers in the schools, assist church organizations and others with menus for large groups, conduct cooking schools, give talks and demonstrations before clubs, and engage in other community services.

On and About the Green . .

OHIO UNIVERSITY'S new chemistry building was dedicated on November 5 with exercises featured by an address by Dr. Louis F. Fieser, head of the chemistry department at Harvard University, and a buffet luncheon for guests from a number of other colleges and universities in Ohio as well as former Ohio University instructors and chemistry majors living in the state. Arrangements for the dedication were made under the general supervision of Dr. D. R. Clippinger, department head. The Harvard scientist's visit provided him an opportunity for a renewal of friendship with Frank B. Gullum, '07, associate professor of chemistry at Ohio University. Prof. Gullum was Dr. Fieser's chemistry teacher and also his athletic coach at East High School, Columbus, back in 1916. The two men are pictured together in the Lindley Hall lounge where the buffet luncheon was served. Prof. Gullum can take credit not only for having started Dr. Fieser on his noted chemistry career, but also for the early development of the great "Chick" Harley, an East High boy who later became famous as an Ohio State University athlete and a three-time All-American football player.

ENROLLMENTS in the 46 teacher-training institutions of Ohio this year are reported by the state director of education to be up a total of 1,309 over 1947. The director's figures show 16,459 students to be engaged in teacher preparation. The College of Education at Ohio University is happy to claim credit for almost 10% of the gain in the state, there being 735 students now enrolled on the Athens campus in contrast to 615 last year.

ASERVICE for civic, educational, and social groups in the form of a Speakers' Bureau has been announced by the School of Dramatic Art and Speech. Designed to be mutually beneficial to students majoring in the school and to community groups, the bureau will provide individual speakers, discussion and debate groups, and one-act plays to interested organizations. Immediately available are a debate on federal aid to education, a four-person discussion of professionalized athletics, interpretative readings, a lecture-demonstration of theatrical makeup, Tolstoy's one-act play, "Swan Song," a mock to the present scene was made last year, the beauty of the new setting being enhanced by a burning taper in each window of the three buildings which face the court. The program will open at 8:40 p.m. with 20 minutes of music from the Cutler Hall chimes and a brass quartet. During the following half hour carols will be sung by a male choir composed of the singing groups of a large number of campus organizations and by all persons attending the service.

Chemistry Professors Gullum (left) and Fieser

radio show, discussions of United Nations and world government affairs, and an original children's play, "Playmate for Anne."

THE UNIVERSITY CHORUS of 135 voices, supported by the University Symphony Orchestra and four guest soloists, will present Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on December 12. The soloists will be Evangeline Merritt, soprano, and Helen Hedden Roach, '36, contralto, both members of the School of Music faculty; Bruce Tolbert, '43, tenor, Parkersburg, W. Va.; and George Schultz, baritone, Columbus.

THE TRADITIONAL candle-lighted Carol Service sponsored by the Student Council will be held December 16 in the semi-court formed by Wilson, Cutler, and McGuffey halls. The change of location from the west portico of the Auditorium that the work of alteration will be completed before the end of the second semester. Instructional activities will be carried on in the building, meanwhile.

THE MEN'S Independent Association has donated $1500, profit from its motion picture project for the past year, to the Student Center Building Fund. Movies are shown, under the sponsorship of MIA, in the Alumni Memorial Auditorium three times a week—on Wednesday, Friday and Saturday nights. The project was initiated primarily to provide entertainment for students and not as a profit venture. Outstanding, though second-run, pictures are shown at moderate prices to audiences which frequently pack the auditorium.

SIX PERMANENT class committees have been appointed by Harry R. Collins, Fort Wayne, Ind., president of the Class of 1949. The committees are: Senior Ball, Class Gift, Senior Breakfast, Membership, Publicity, and Program. Full-scale graduation exercises are planned for February and August during the coming year. The applications for mid-year graduation number 277, in contrast to the February, 1948, total of 134 . . . Dana Chase, son of H. Dana Chase, '25, and Mrs. Chase (Jeanette Adams, '24x), Elmhurst, Ill., was elected president of the Junior Class at an election on November 10.

THE UNIVERSITY Convocation, on December 2 will be featured by a concert by Ernst von Dohnanyi (picture later), eminent Hungarian composer-pianist. Dr. Dohnanyi will be on the campus as a guest professor during the latter part of November and the month of December. During his stay he will present recitals, conduct master-classes in piano and composition, give lectures, and meet informally with music students. His appearance is made possible by the Ohio University Fund. . . . The world-famous London String Quartet was heard in a convocation concert in Alumni Memorial Auditorium on Nov. 16. The concert, sponsored jointly by the university convocations committee, the School of Music, and the Coolidge Foundation, was held at night for the greater convenience of the student body and residents of the community who were invited to share the treat. Besides having appeared in every music center in Europe many times, the quartet has made 16 transcontinental tours of the United States and Canada.

WINNERS of the three top prizes in the Second Annual Awards Competition in Ohio History, Government, and Citizenship, sponsored by Ohio University October 29 and 30, are shown (see picture) as they received their money awards from Judge Carl V. Weygandt (extreme right), chief justice of the Ohio Supreme Court. On the left is the Ohio University president, Dr. John C. Baker. The three winners are, left to right, Charles La Mere, of St. Mary's High School, Warren, third prize of $25; Elizabeth

Martz, Scott High School, Toledo, second prize of $50; and Mary Louise Wright, of Wooster High School, who received the first prize of $100. Ninety-nine Ohio high school students came to the campus for the final competition in the state-wide contest. They were the county and state-at-large winners from among some 3,000 students who participated in the preliminary tests. Winners of fourth to tenth places in the final examinations received awards of $10 each, while honorable mention certificates were given to those ranking from eleventh to twenty-fifth. The prize money was provided by the Ohio University

Chief Justice Weygandt Awards Ohio History Prizes

Fund. A special certificate of merit was given to each of the county winners. Any student of an accredited high school in Ohio enrolled in the 11th and 12th year and who is taking or has taken American history or government during one of these years was eligible to participate in the competition. Dr. A. T. Volwiler, professor of history, was chairman of the 1948 Awards Competition Committee.

APPROXIMATELY 150 supervising critic teachers, directors of student teaching, and student teachers, themselves, representing 17 educational institutions in Ohio, met on the Ohio University campus, Nov. 13-14, for the Ohio Unit Conference of the National Association of Student Teaching. Among the leaders in attendance were Miss Louise Wilson, national president of the organization and a supervising critic teacher at the University of Kentucky; Dr. E. M. Tarruther, first vice president and director of student teaching at Miami University; Dr. Margaret Lindsey, second vice president and coordinator of professional education at Indiana State Teachers College, Terre Haute, Ind.; and Dr. Allen D. Patterson, executive secretary and director of teacher education at State Teachers College, Lock Haven, Pa. Miss Thelma Dunn, president of the Ohio Unit and assistant professor of education at Wittenberg College, presided over the conference. Helen M. Evans, assistant professor of education and supervising critic at Ohio University, was the local chairman. The welcoming address was given by Dean Evan R. Collins of Ohio University's College of Education.

MISS GERDA PETERICH,

visiting lecturer in photography at Ohio University, has been named director of the new Portrait Section of the Photographic Society of America. At the society's convention in Cincinnati early this month, she delivered a lecture which was based almost entirely on the accomplishments of students in portraiture at Ohio University. Fourteen of her students attended the convention, which was held in the mid-west area for the first time. Miss Peterich has been invited to engage in a lecture tour next spring under the auspices of the society during which she would appear before photographic societies in such metropolitan centers as Chicago, Minneapolis, and in other mid-western cities. . . . With film for but one more picture, Robert L. Bender, Rocky River, Ohio University sophomore and a student of Miss Peterich in elementary photography, snapped a picture which won him $500 in the 10th annual Newspaper Snapshot Contest in Washington, D. C., last month. The picture, which had won a $50 prize in the Cleveland Press Snapshot Contest earlier in the year, was of an elderly gentleman taken on his farm near Athens. The young photographer won still another $50 cash award with a picture of a team of horses and a wagon taken at the same time as the big money winner.

AKRON GRAD RECOGNIZED BY TWO LARGE ORGANIZATIONS

Willis H. Edmund, '28, director of education and recreation for the Akron plants of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company and the Goodyear Aircraft Corporation, recently has been elected vice president of the

Willis H. Edmund

Industrial Recreation Association for American Industry and lieutenant governor, for 1949, of Division Eleven of the Ohio District of Kiwanis International.

Mr. Edmund is a former president of the National Industrial Athletic Conference and a former director of public recreation in the city of Akron. He also has headed recreational programs in Haddon Heights, N. J., and Danville, Va.

A onetime member of the Ohio University men's glee club and varsity quartet, "Bid" is active in music circles in the Rubber City.

HOLIDAY DANCE

An informal holiday dance, sponsored by the Bobcat Club of Cleveland, will be held Saturday, December 18, at the Cleveland University Club, 3813 Euclid Avenue. The hours are 10 p.m. to 2 a.m., and the music will be by Vince Pattie.

All Ohio University alumni and students are invited to attend the dance which is promoted annually by the Bobcats. Tickets are $3.00 per couple.

Joint chairmen of the dance committee are Chester C. Gober, 4300 Euclid Ave., Apt. 514 (Tele.—HE 5203) and Ralph C. Frey, 18220 Landseer Rd. (Tele.—IV 3399).

OHIO U. DRAMATICS MAJORS MARRIED IN ACTORS' CHAPEL

James H. Dyas, '46, whose marriage to "Tomie" Tompkins, '43, is reported on page 20, has an interesting and exciting war record. He saw action in North Africa, the ETO, and in the China-Burma-India campaigns as a paratrooper with the Office of Strategic Services.

He was one of 15 American paratroopers dropped down in France near St. Raphael 15 days before the invasion in June, 1944. This small group was the first Allied unit to touch French soil following the disastrous landing on Dieppe several months before.

The OSS detachment cut communications on the Napoleon route from Cannes north, severed the north-south trunk line along the Durance River, and in many ways bolstered the morale of the French underground forces.

Corporal Dyas and his companions were trained for a year in the U. S., North Africa and Sicily for their job.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Dyas were prominent in dramatics on the campus. Since leaving Ohio University, the couple has been active in the professional theater in New York City as well as in summer stock companies in New England and Florida.

Mrs. Dyas has appeared in New York productions of "Laura," "Little A," "Charley's Aunt," and others. Mr. Dyas attended and graduated from the Dramatic Workshop of the New School and was seen on Broadway in "I Gotta Get Out," and "The Insect Comedy."

Following the wedding, which was held in the Actors' Chapel on 49th St., New York City, a reception was held at the home of Herman Leonard, '47, in Greenwich Village. In addition to friends from theatrical, musical, and artistic circles, the reception was attended by more than a dozen Ohio University alumni, including Janis Halliday, Lois Baumgartner, Dale Engle, Gene Dybvig, Al Fiering, Bill McCutcheon, Easter Yahya, Terese Nelson, Fay Kintz, Don Fahnstock, Walter F. Joyce, Mrs. Joyce (Elaine Plomske), Janet Wycoff, and Charles and Jack Dyas.

HALDERMAN WINS SECOND S.E.O. LEAGUE TITLE IN ROW

The Gallia Academy High School (Gallipolis) football team coached by James F. Halderman, '42, closed its 1948 season with an 86 to 0 victory over a Southeastern Ohio League opponent. The game was the 19th consecutive gridiron contest to be won by the boys from the "Old French City" and brought them their second league championship in a row.

Coach James F. Halderman

The year has not only been successful from the standpoint of statistics but it also saw the completion of a fine new memorial stadium.

Between the halves of the season's concluding game Coach Halderman was presented with a golf bag, a complete set of clubs, and a membership in the Gallipolis Golf Club by members of the Downtown Coaches Association. Two assistant coaches, one of them Charles B. Swanson, '33, were given gold wrist watches.

Don C. Peden, Ohio University's director of athletics and physical welfare, was the speaker at the banquet honoring the team and coaches on November 18.

In paying tribute to Coach Halderman in a recent communication to the Alumni Office, Supt. E. E. Higgins, '25, of the Gallipolis schools, said: "Jim builds boys as well as teams. He is a great fellow and a great asset to our school."

News From the Organized Centers

Auspiciously launched have been the annual programs of a number of the organized alumni groups. Program chairmen and other officers have planned activities which, in some cases, will eclipse any ever previously undertaken.

Cleveland Bobcats

The 1948-49 kickoff meeting of the Cleveland Bobcats was a smoker, Sept. 16, at the Cleveland Athletic Club. Besides beginning-of-the-year business, there was an entertainment program provided by John Hlinka, '43, who is now with Radio Station WJMO. It was voted to hold future meetings at the Athletic Club and that they be in the nature of smokers instead of dinners. The president and secretary of this Ohio University men's club are, respectively, Charles G. Hamilton, '32, and Lyle T. Eby, '38.

On Oct. 19, Don C. Peden and William J. Trautwein, of the university athletic staff, and Vic Sherow, '29, director of press relations, were guests of the Bobcats at their new rendezvous—the Athletic Club.

The accompanying picture was taken at the October meeting and shows, left to right, "Bill" Trautwein, Charlie Hamilton, Don Peden, Sherman Peters, '41, and Ray Chenek, '39. Peters and Chenek are members of the club's executive committee.

Head Freshman Coach Frank Richcy attended the second smoker—Nov. 16—and showed movies of the OU-Reserve and OU-Cincy football games.

A reference to the plans for the annual Christmas Dance sponsored by the Club will be found on page 10.

At the Jan. 18 meeting three Ohio University trustees are to be the special guests. The visitors will be Arthur C. Johnson, '95x, and Earl C. Shively, '21, Columbus, and Don C. McVay, '15, Leroy.

Cleveland Women

The Ohio University Women's Club of Cleveland, with Eleanor Morrow, '33, as president, and Mrs. Robert Young (Lucille Banasik, '43), as secretary, opened a new year of activities with a "Bring-A-New-Member" Day program and luncheon, Sept. 18, at Higbee's Lounge. Mrs. Chester Gober (Bette Parge, '41) is first vice president and program chairman; Mrs. George M. Brown (Ruth Fowler, '32x), membership chairman; and Mrs. W. J. Frasz (Jane Marshall, '36x), "hospitality coordinator."

The luncheon was followed by a fashion show staged by Higbee mannequins under the direction of Helene St. Andrews.

Cleveland Bobcats Honor Guests from Campus

Higbee's Lounge, the club's regular meeting place, was the scene of a benefit card party and tea on Oct. 23. The proceeds of the party were deposited in the organization's scholarship fund.

A review of current fiction by a member of the Cleveland Public Library staff will feature the luncheon program on Nov. 27. A Christmas tea and musicale, with Virginia Eppinger, a pianist, as special guest, is scheduled for Dec. 18.

Akron Women

The president and secretary, respectively, of the Akron Association of Ohio University Women for the current year are Mrs. Earl O. Wright (Alice Edwards, '27), and Mrs. William J. Secrest (Helen Duncan, '17, 2-yr.).

The first fall meeting was a membership tea, Oct. 2, at the home of Mrs. E. E. Eller (Leila Borden, '22x), in Cuyahoga Falls. Mrs. Eller, as hostess, was assisted by Mrs. Ida Mae Walthour Blundell, '24, Mrs. Ruth Ault Smith, '16, and Mrs. Ida Wiseman, '17, 2-yr. A musical program was provided by the Akron College Club chorus.

The Nov. 6 meeting was held at the home of Joanne Hammerstand, '46, who had as assistant hostesses, Mrs. Beatrice Crabtree Ryder, '22x, Mrs. Grace Walker Love, '23, and Mrs. Alberta Kimerline Creager, '32. The program discussion on "France" was lead by Mrs. Maurice Astier.

The holiday meeting, Dec. 4., will be held at the home of Mrs. Fred Jennings (Nadine Michael, '24), with a Christmas story to be told by Mrs. A. R. Ritzman.

Columbus Bobcats

Head Coach Harold Wise, Athletic Director Don Peden, and C. N. Mackinnon, professor of English and a member of the faculty committee on intercollegiate athletics, visited the Columbus Bobcats (men). On Oct. 14 and spoke informally at the dinner which was held at the Seneca Hotel.

This year's president is Harry C. "Turk" Wilson, '15, and the secretary, Clarence Littler, '28x.

Toledo

The Toledo chapter, composed of both men and women, as is true of all of the general "chapter" groups, is currently headed by J. W. LaFrance, '34, president, and Jeanne F. Fisher, '47, secretary.

A summer picnic, July 18, at Fort Meigs State Park near Perrysburg, was followed this fall by two dinner meetings, the first on Sept. 24 at the Delft House and the second on Nov. 8 at the Collingwood Presbyterian Church.

George A. Banks, '29, associate director of the Ohio University Fund, was the guest speaker at the September meeting, while President John C. Baker and Brandon T. Grover, '19, assistant to the president, were the honor guests at the reunion early this month.

(Continued on page 23)

The Bobcat Sports Review

By VIC SHEROW, '29

THE 1948 football season is a matter of history, uniforms and other equipment is stored away, and Bobcat partisans, hoping to soon forget the dismal '48 season are looking toward 1949 with an air of optimism.

The '48 edition of the Bobcats faced one of the toughest schedules of the past few years and there were many whose pre-season predictions hinted the boys would be lucky to win a single game. The records show three wins, two of them in Mid-American Conference play, against six losses, giving the boys the second successive losing season for the first time since the 1912 and 1913 teams.

While there was not too much to cheer about this past season, followers of the team are optimistic about the outlook for next year, even against competition as tough as that faced this year. With only two members of this year's squad due to be lost through graduation, sophomores who were outstanding in the season's play have gained a year of valuable experience and should be able to really go places for the next two years.

Added to this will be a crop of freshman footballers who displayed great talent in a four-game schedule, winding up with three wins and one loss, and who in practice sessions showed marked ability against the varsity squad.

Coach Harold E. Wise, in a post-season press conference, displayed pride in the showing made by his predominantly sophomore team despite its win and loss record. He pointed out that the team started the season with few experienced players and after a mediocre showing in the first game came back strong to give every remaining opponent a stiff battle.

After dropping the first three games to Bowling Green 13 to 7, Washington and Lee 13 to 0, and Cincinnati 18 to 13, the Bobcats jumped into the victory column with a 37 to 7 win over Western Reserve to balance their loss to Cincinnati in conference play.

Homecoming Day on Oct. 23 found the Miami Redskins invading the Bobcat lair and a steady rain adding to the gloominess of the day's festivities.

Miami, which had spoiled Ohio's perfect record of victory in Homecoming Days in the Ohio stadium with a 23 to 14 victory in 1946, took the day's honors 21 to 0 for the fourth straight year of victory over the Bobcats, and also went into a 13 to 12 lead in the long series between the two teams.

New Electric Scoreboard At Ohio Stadium

Winding up a three-week home stand on Oct. 30, the Bobcats played host to the Duquesne University Dukes in the first athletic contest between the two schools, and in one of the most thrilling games of the season, eked out a 14 to 13 victory with a touchdown and point after scored in the last 20 seconds of play.

After holding a 7-6 lead in the first period, the Bobcats found themselves behind 13 to 7 at halftime, and after a scoreless third period, it looked like the Dukes were going to get back in the winning column after three straight losses.

But with less than five minutes left to play, the Bobcats gained possession of the ball in Duquesne territory and opened up a ground and air attack that netted them the victory. Two pass interference rulings against the Dukes put the ball on the Duquesne one-yard line from where Jim McKenna plunged over for his second touchdown of the day to knot the score at 13-all.

With a record of eight conversions in eight attempts for the season to that point, the matter of a Bobcat victory rested on the left toe of Ed Sudnick, former Cleveland South athlete. Ed split the uprights with his kick to keep his record clear and give Ohio its second victory with only time enough left for a kickoff play.

The visit to Morgantown on Nov. 6 for a clash with West Virginia turned into a rout for the Bobcats in a game played in a sea of mud.

The Bobcats played the Mountaineers on even terms in the first quarter, ending the period behind 7 to 6. But the home team soon learned the Bobcats' weakness on forward pass defense and taking to the air, despite the slippery ball and muddy field, pushed over six more touchdowns to win 48 to 6. Despite the overwhelming score, the Bobcats held a 14 to 11 advantage in first downs.

Invading the lair of the Butler Bulldogs on Nov. 13, the Bobcats took the honors 14 to 6 for their second conference win. Butler assumed a 6 to 0 lead in the first period during which the Bobcats were slightly bewildered by the single wing type of offensive used by Butler. But once they organized their defense, the Bobcats started rolling and took a 7 to 6 lead at halftime. After a scoreless third period, the Bobcats pushed to the Butler 2 and on the second attempt to push over, fooled the Bulldogs with a McKenna to Gubde pass for the score, to which Sudnick added his 11th extra point of the year.

Winding up the season on the home gridiron, the Bobcats took on the heavyweight Western Michigan broncos. Bobcat partisans were elated when their team left the field at the half holding a 7 to 6 lead and having checked nearly every offensive effort of the visitors. But once again a strong forward passing offense squelched the Bobcats and the Broncos really took to the air in the last half during which they ran up 34 points almost at will. The final score was 40-7.

Statistically, the Bobcats had a few bright spots during an otherwise drab season. They led their opponents 63 to 62 on first downs by rushing, had 47 penalties for a total of 410 yards as against 51 for 445 yards, and listed 28 fumbles to 30 for their opponents.

In rushing, the Bobcats carried the ball 369 times for a net yardage of 1296, or a 3.51 average per play, while their opponents made 1397 yards in 405 plays for an average of 3.45, but through the air the opponents completed 70 of 145 passes for 113 yards to 48 completions in 126 attempts for 569 yards for the Bobcats, to give the opponents an average of 4.56 in 550 total offensive plays for 2510 yards against the Ohio mark of 3.76 in 495 plays for 1865 yards.

Stumpf captured the individual rushing honors with his showing in the closing game, winding up with an average of 5.87 per try in 57 trips with the ball, while Jim McKenna, with 102 trips, had a 4.84 average after being in the lead all season.

McKenna also led in scoring with six touchdowns for 36 points, while Chet Rojeck, Sudnick, Dick Davis and Art Guhde all were tied for second with 12 each. Sudnick collected his 12 points entirely through point after conversions and in three years of collegiate football still has to score his first touchdown.

THIS FALL'S crop of freshman footballers brought cheer to Coach Frank Richey and his staff and also to those in charge of the varsity squad as they started looking ahead to the 1949 season.

With these gridders added to the outstanding sophomore talent on this year's varsity the Bobcats should field a very formidable team next season, unless eligibility rules or grades cause too many to fall by the wayside.

The frosh spent many of their practice sessions scrimmaging against the varsity, using plays of varsity opponents, and from their showing in these sessions, together with their season record in four intercollegiate games, observers classed the team as one of the best frosh outfits in Ohio's history. On the field were several boys who gained All-State, All-County and All-League or other honors during their high school careers.

The Bobkittens, as they are familiarly known, opened their four-game season with a 24 to 7 victory over the Ohio Wesleyan frosh and the next week, playing in Logan, W. Va., dropped their only game to the West Virginia frosh, although they outplayed their opponents in all respects except in the scoring column.

In the first of two games on the home gridiron, the Bobkittens called a halt to the Bowling Green frosh victory streak by the tune of 12 to 7 and then ended their season with a 14 to 12 win over the Cincinnati freshmen, both of these games being won with brilliant displays of football in the final period after the Bobkittens found themselves on the short end of the score.

The Bobkittens scored 50 points to 39 for their opponents, making eight touchdowns and two conversions, while their opponents had six touchdowns and three conversions.

The frosh, about 75 strong, will get another fling at the gridiron sport in the annual spring practice, when it is expected several will make successful bids for berths on Coach Wise's varsity squad.

BOASTING a record of four wins and one loss in dual and triangular competition, the Ohio University cross country runners (see picture) concluded one of their best seasons on record with a third place in the annual Mid-American Conference meet held over the University of Cincinnati course.

The Bobcat squad captured third, fifth, twelfth, nineteenth and twenty-first places for a point total of 60, placing them behind Western Michigan in first place with 40 and Miami, the 1947 champion, second with 41.

Ohio's John Hesketh, the outstanding member of the Bobcat squad, finished third in the Mid-American meet, with first place going to Mike Stavole, Miami's individual champion of last year. Hesketh took first place honors in three meets this year, bowing only to Stavole in a dual meet held here.

Gene Cain, who finished fifth for the Bobcats in the conference meet, was a consistent point-getter for Ohio throughout the season, his best performance being in the West Virginia meet at Morgantown, when he led the pack despite having to stop to fix his shoes, and also set a new course record 31½ seconds better than the previous mark for the 3¼ mile course. Hesketh missed this meet, which was run in the rain due to a family wedding. Cain was a consistent second or third placer during the season.

The Bobcats opened their season with a 15-46 win over Marshall on the home course and then tripped Cincinnati 21-34 on the Cincinnati course. In a triangular meet on the home course, the Bobcats won over Bowling Green and Western Reserve 23-32-73, with Hesketh taking the measure of Bob Petrie and Bob Weaver, Bowling Green stars. Their only loss was to Miami 33 to 23 on the home course, with the dual meet schedule concluding with the win over West Virginia, the first loss of the year for the Mountaineers by a 28-29 score.

1948 CROSS COUNTRY SQUAD

Left to right: Ed Maruna, Bob Wright, John Hesketh, Gordon Netschke, Wally Bennett, and Gene Cain. In front: Gordon Cox, coach-trainer.

WITH THEIR opening game listed for Dec. 7 against Marietta on the home court, the Ohio University Bobcat cagers are being put through some stiff daily workouts by Coach W. J. "Dutch" Trautwein, who is starting his 11th year as mentor of the cagers.

With a squad of about 20 players, Coach Trautwein has been using several different combinations in practice sessions, seeking to develop the strongest possible quintet to take the floor for the 21-game schedule facing the Bobcats.

Fighting for first string berths are five lettermen from last year along with five other members of last year's varsity squad and a scattering of new recruits. So far the lettermen or for-

BOBCAT BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

1948-49

Dec. 7	Marietta at Athens
Dec. 11	Morris Harvey at Charleston, W. Va.
Dec. 14	Mt. Union at Athens
Dec. 18	Akron at Akron
Jan. 4	Muskingum at New Concord
Jan. 7	Western Reserve at Athens
Jan. 10	Western Michigan at Athens
Jan. 14	Cincinnati at Cincinnati
Jan. 15	Miami at Oxford
Jan. 21	Dayton at Athens
Jan. 25	Ohio Wesleyan at Delaware
Jan. 28	Butler at Athens
Feb. 5	Butler at Indianapol
Feb. 7	Dayton at Dayton
Feb. 12	Miami at Athens
Feb. 15	Marietta at Marietta
Feb. 18	Bowling Green at Athens
Feb. 22	Ohio Wesleyan at Athens
Feb. 26	Western Reserve at Cleveland
Mar. 1	Cincinnati at Athens
Mar. 5	Western Michigan at Kalamazoo

mer varsity players seem to have the inside track for starting positions.

Gene Williams, six-foot-four center, appears a certain starter unless a knee injury suffered last season and aggravated in the early part of the football season causes him further trouble. Bob Dickey, another six-foot-four boy, also is aiming at the center berth, both being lettermen last year.

Gene Gyurko, Bob Johnson and Gene Kinsley, all lettermen, are the most likely candidates for forward berths, with Phil McKown and Herb Pollock from last year's squad showing up best at guard positions. Chuck Renner, forward, and Jim Shreffler and Paul Whyte, centers, also are available from last year's outfit.

The 1947-48 squad split even in a 20-game schedule and there are few who have hopes of a much better record for this year's squad, which will be minus the services of three of last year's star performers. Missing are Dick Shrider, forward and leading scorer who also ranked near the top nationally and in Mid-American Conference circles; Mark Wylie, outstanding foul-shooting forward, ineligible after playing pro baseball last summer; and Harry Gordon, stellar guard.

Rain, Rain, Go Away...

Some 11,000 spectators, including one of the largest crowds of alumni in homecoming history, had only the 105-piece marching band's word for the fact that "It's Always Fair Weather When Good Fellows Get Together," as they witnessed the Ohio-Miami game, October 23, in Ohio Stadium.

The well-known fellowship song was played by the band during the half-time period of a game which was not helped by an almost incessant drizzle of rain.

Assurance was given for next year, however, when President John C. Baker, in welcoming old grads and former students, told them he would see to it that the Alumni Secretary provided better weather in 1949.

Among the numbers played by the band was "Anchors Aweigh," in anticipation of Navy Day the following Wednesday.

In a brief ceremony during the game intermission, the Homecoming Queen, Betty Justice, a Portsmouth senior and representative of Howard Hall, was presented with flowers and a trophy by Chris Stefan on behalf of the Varsity "O" Association.

Beverly Whipple, Altadena, Calif., and Marjorie Ann Reid, Lakewood, were the queen's attendants. Miss Whipple is the daughter of Byron E. Whipple, '22 & '23, and Mrs. Whipple (Flora Case, '17, 2-yr.).

Following the presentation of the queen, announcement was made of the winners in the float parade and house decoration competitions.

Twenty-five campus organizations entered floats in the homecoming day parade, which old-timers acclaimed the best ever. The judges named Howard Hall and Chi Omega as winners among the women's entries, and Delta Tau Delta and Lambda Chi Delta tops in the men's group.

Phi Delta Theta's "Fort Ohio" was judged first among the house decorations, with Theta Chi's elaborate and cleverly-conceived carnival taking second.

More than 40 alumni members of Torch, men's honorary, attended the buffet luncheon served by the undergraduate chapter in the Student Center.

Fraternity, sorority, dormitory, church, and private dinners and

Cheerleader "Vee" Costanzo and "Penny" Miller

"open houses" provided homecoming hospitality for hundreds of visitors.

The accompanying picture was taken at Ohio Stadium and shows Victoria "Vee" Costanzo, Garfield Heights, a cheerleader, and little "Penny" Miller, daughter of Drum Major C. W. "Bill" Miller, Newark. The gas-filled balloons were released as part of a game-time stunt.

To the disappointment of the editor of The Alumnus, the photographer who took the cover picture failed to get the names of the young man and woman who are the principal figures in it. It will be appreciated if persons recognizing these two happy homecomers will report their identities to the Alumni Office.

Here and There Among the Alumni

1815

It will be interesting to Ohio University alumni to know that Blair House, directly opposite the White House in Washington and now occupied by President Truman and his family while the latter structure is undergoing repairs, was once the home of THOMAS EWING, Ohio University's first graduate. Ewing lived in the home while serving as Secretary of the Treasury under President William Henry Harrison. In recent years Blair

Harry R. Jefferson
(See Class of 1922 Notes)

House has been used as a guest house for visiting foreign dignitaries.

1861

While perusing the October number of the Southern California Alumni Review recently, the editor of The Ohio Alumnus came upon a picture that bore a close resemblance to the late BISHOP EARL CRANSTON, one of the foremost leaders in the movement which brought about unification of the three major branches of the Methodist church—Methodist Episcopal, Methodist Episcopal Church, South, and Methodist Protestant. Underneath the picture in the California publication was the identification, "Dr. Earl Cranston . . . new Head of Religion." Upon inquiry, Dr. Cranston proved to be, as suspected, a grandson of the bishop. He has been chairman of the Department of Religion at Dartmouth College since 1944 and was recently appointed dean of the Graduate School of Religion at the University of Southern California. He will assume his new duties at the beginning of the second semester.

1898

A collection of sermons by DR. DON D. TULLIS is now available in book form.

This volume of short and to the point sermons carries the title "God's Garage" and has just come off the presses of Dorrance & Company, Philadelphia publishers. National president of the Ohio University Alumni Association last year, Dr. Tullis is a former minister of the Tourist Church in Daytona Beach, Fla., and was for many years associated with the Federated Churches of Greater Cleveland and the Federation of Churches in Buffalo, N. Y. He has been a leader in efforts to break down the wall of denominational differences and to bring unity of action among protestant groups. He and Mrs. Tullis now reside in Athens where the latter, a talented musician, is director of a 65-voice Inter-Church Youth Choir which is rapidly gaining an enviable reputation. Invitations from beyond the state's borders have been received for concerts by the teen-age group.

1903

J. M. ZANG, Akron, is first vice president of the Ohio Welfare Conference which held its 58th annual meeting in Columbus early in November. The four-day session was attended by more than 3,000 persons representing public and private welfare agencies throughout Ohio and adjoining states. Mr. Zang is director of public charities of the city of Akron.

1905

JOSHUA R. MORTON, who retired from the Ohio University faculty last June and has been given the honorary status of professor emeritus of chemistry, with Mrs. Morton, is spending the winter in Florida. During his stay in the southland he expects to visit a number of former Ohio University friends and schoolmates.

1909

DR. KARL L. ADAMS is in his twentieth year as president of Northern Illinois State Teachers College at De Kalb. A son, Karl, Jr., is living in North Carolina where he is in charge of sales for a Chicago firm. A daughter, Ruth, lives in Hiram, Ohio, where her husband, Melvin A. Anderson, is dean of personnel at Hiram College. The Andersons live in what is known as Truedley House at Hiram College, a home given to the school by the late Frederick Truedley, a graduate of Hiram and for many years a professor of philosophy at Ohio University. President and Mrs. Adams (HELEN BAKER, '11) now have three grandchildren.

1912

FRED S. WHEATON, with Mrs. Wheaton (ELIZABETH WALTERS, '28), has returned from a summer and late fall vacation in the Northwest. Equipped with a trailer home and an outboard motor, the Wheatons were able to enjoy themselves in the national park areas as well as on the fishing streams. Five weeks were spent on the Columbia and Siletz rivers in pursuit of the elusive salmon. Mr. Wheaton entered the Astoria Salmon Derby, and reports that while he hooked no prize winners, he got a lot of thrills.

HORTON C. POWNALL, head of Pownall, Taylor & Hays, an insurance and bond firm in Portland, Oregon, with Mrs. Pownall (MAMIE MCCOMBS, '11, 2-yr.), were campus visitors on Homecoming Day this fall. On a six weeks' tour, they saw the Oregon-Michigan football game in Ann Arbor, the World Series baseball games in Cleveland, the Ohio-Miami gridiron contest in Athens, spent a week in

Ellis B. Miracle
(See Class of 1929 Notes)

New York City, flew to Bermuda for a week, and, enroute home, stopped at numerous points in the South and West, including Chattanooga, New Orleans, and San Francisco.

1913

Two vacation trips this summer, either of which could be envied by most of us, were taken by DR. ROBERT L. MORTON, and Mrs. Morton (JEAN ADAMS, '14). In July they enjoyed a 24-day cruise to Cuba and the Panama Canal Zone, and then to Guatemala, where they spent nine days inland in the mountains. Later in the summer a month was spent at Lake Vermillion in northern Minnesota. On the latter trip they were accompanied by their son-in-law and daughter, FREDERIC E. WEBB, '48, and Mrs. Webb (JEAN MORTON, '36), Athens.

1914

DANIEL BISHOP, second son of HERMAN D. BISHOP, assistant principal of the senior high school in Mansfield, is enrolled as a freshman this fall at Ohio University. The Bishops have two other sons, Jerry and Richard.

1915

DR. OLIN S. LUTES, former dean of the School of Education at the University of Maine and during the war an officer in the QMC Inspection Service, has recently been appointed chief of the Advancement and Guidance Section of the Regional Office of the Veterans Administration in Brooklyn, N. Y.

After a period of independent operation in the real estate field, HOWARD W. VERWOLDT, 2-yr., is now associated with William P. Zinn & Co., Columbus, in the division of sales and leases. Besides real estate, the Zinn organization handles mortgage loans, surety bonds, and insurance. Mr. Verwoldt and his wife were September visitors to the campus when they brought their son, Howard W. Jr.,

Ross A. Sams
(See Class of 1932 Notes)

to enroll as a freshman at Ohio University.

1916

WALTER W. GRAF, 2-yr., city engineer in Lancaster, was elected a director of the National Council of State Boards of Engineers at the group's meeting in Salt Lake City, Utah, late in August.

1917

A veteran teacher in the Dayton public schools, EMMA L. KIEFFER, 2-yr., has supervised music in the Gem City's Kiser and Roosevelt high schools and is now on the staff of the Ruskin School.

1918

DR. NAPOLEON CONGER, former state director of teacher training in Oklahoma and for ten or more years dean of the School of Education at Oklahoma A. & M., is now dean emeritus of the well-known agricultural and mechanical college at Stillwater. Dean Conger married Gladys Pelton, '07, 2-yr., in 1929. The Congers have a daughter, Florence, who, at last report, was a graduate student at Yale University.

Mrs. W. Grant Scott (HALLIE HOOPMAN, '18), Westerville, has recently returned from a vacation spent with her daughter and family—MARGARET SCOTT BRUMBAUGH, '46, JAMES H. BRUMBAUGH, A.B. '43, A.M., '48, and their little son, Drew. The Brumbaughs live in a new home about one mile out of Hillsboro, N. C., from which Jim drives each day to the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill for graduate work in chemistry. Mrs. Scott has a position with the State Welfare Department in Columbus.

1919

On October 4 ROBERT S. BONE visited the Ohio University campus for the first time since receiving his degree 28 years ago. He was accompanied by Mrs. Bone (FREDERICA KASLER, '19) who was making only her second visit in almost three decades. Until recently, the Bones have resided in Texas but are now living in Fayetteville, Ark. Mr. Bone is sales manager for several states of the John Bean Mfg. Co., a Lansing, Mich., concern making crop sprayers and farm equipment. The Bones have three sons. The oldest, Bob, is married and lives in Stafford, Kans. The second, Bill, also married, is a graduate student in the University of California at Berkeley. The youngest son, Jim, is at home and enrolled in the University of Arkansas.

1920

At a sale of race horses held at New York's Belmont Park in September, the Darby Dan Farm, owned by John W. Galbreath, Columbus real estate man, part owner of the Pittsburgh Pirates baseball team, and Ohio University trustee, disposed of all its horses. The 14 thoroughbreds brought $200,400. Mrs. Galbreath (HELEN MAUCK, '19), who died just two years ago, willed securities in the Pittsburgh Athletic Co., Inc., and the Forbes Field Co. worth more than $250,000 to her husband and their two children, Mrs. James W. Phillips (JOAN GALBREATH, '46), Columbus, and Dan, a student at Amherst College. The value of Mrs. Galbreath's entire estate was estimated at in excess of $687,000.

HOMER H. MARSHMAN, Cleveland attorney and former chairman of the Cuyahoga County Republican Executive Committee, has recently become president of the 104-year-old Cleveland - Sandusky Brewing Corp. A practicing attorney for 25 years, Mr. Marshman has been counsel for the company, which last year spent almost a half million dollars to modernize its Cleveland plant. With a dozen business men and socialites in 1936, Marshman founded the Cleveland Rams, a professional football team, predecessors to the Cleveland Browns. He is a graduate of the Harvard Law School.

WILLIAM A. TRONE with Mrs. Trone (ONETA NORCROSS, '21), and their two boys, Jim and Bob, were visitors in Athens this summer for the first time in 22 years. At one time manager and musical director for the well-known Don Voorhees orchestra (DuPont Cavalcade, Bell Telephone Hour, and March of Time), Bill is now an independent orchestra contractor. The older son is studying medicine at Johns Hopkins University.

1921

In a recent request for application for admission blanks for the school year commencing in September, 1949, Louise Price, of Lanikai, Oahu, Hawaii, indicated to Admissions Director Frank B. Dilley, that "I am especially interested in Ohio University because my father, SUMNER PRICE, graduated from Ohio University in 1921 in the same class as your Alumni Secretary, MR. CLARK WILLIAMS." You will be very welcome, Miss Price, and the Alumni Secretary hopes to be one of the first to greet you upon your arrival in Athens. The young lady's father is medical director of the Queen's Hospital in Honolulu.

1922

HARRY R. JEFFERSON (see preceding

E. D. Mann
(See Class of 1930 Notes)

page), football coach at Virginia State College, Petersburg, Va., will probably not spend the winter months worrying about a job for next year. "Big Jeff," an outstanding lineman on Bobcat teams of his college day, has had what he modestly calls "good success with football in the past five years." During that period, and including the season just closed, his teams have won 36 games, lost 7, and tied one. His boys were undefeated in 1945 and lost but one game in each of two other seasons, 1944 and 1946. On October 27, this fall, his was the only undefeated, untied and unscored team in the nation.

DR. C. H. CALHOON, has resigned as headmaster of the Glenview-Hillcrest Schools near Cincinnati to become chief psychologist of the State Division of Mental Hygiene. He is the first to hold the job and is in charge of psychological tests in state institutions for the mentally ill. Before joining the staff of the Cincinnati school, Dr. Calhoon was for many years executive psychologist with the Ohio Bureau of Juvenile Research.

1923

At the highly successful reunion of the Class of 1923 held at Commencement time last June, RALPH F. "SID" BECKERT, professor of accounting at Ohio Univer-city, was named chairman of a committee to begin planning at once for the 30th anniversary reunion of the class in 1953. The 1948 reunioneers passed a resolution in which the hope was expressed that the university would be able to make available more extensive housing facilities for reunion groups in the future.

1924

(MISS) DANA A. FRY has been a Latin and English teacher in the high school at Carnegie, Pa., since 1929. Prior to that she had taught the same subjects in Pittsburgh, New Haven, W. Va., and Warsaw, Ohio.

1925

A movement to improve Athens' inadequate hospital facilities resulted in a city-wide canvass and voluntary contributions of almost $30,000 to be used in purchasing new equipment and expanding the local Sheltering Arms Hospital. The hospital was recently purchased from its former owners by DR. THERON H. MORGAN, ex. an Athens physician and surgeon, who has announced that as soon as it is free of debt it is his intention to give it to the people of Athens. To make certain that Sheltering Arms will be community owned, he has instructed the executors of his will to carry out his wishes in this respect. The money, raised by popular subscription, goes not to Dr. Morgan, but to an organization known as Sheltering Arms Hospital Foundation, Inc. The Athens man is a fellow of the American College of Surgeons.

1926

EDGAR W. SHOEMAKER, an accountant with Ernst & Ernst in Cleveland from 1933 until 1946, is now controller of the American Potash and Chemical Company at that company's main office in Los Angeles, Calif.

1927

Some Athens friends were pleased to hear RUBY MERCER, concert and light opera singer, late this summer in a performance of "The Great Waltz" in the Amphitheatre in Louisville, Ky. Besides carrying out a singing role her friends report that Miss Mercer also danced the Blue Danube Waltz and gave a most pleasing performance, both musically and dramatically. Non-professionally, the Ohio University graduate is Mrs. Theodor Haig and, with her husband, lives in New York City.

Alumni Office visitors during recent weeks included GERARD C. POWELL and Mrs. Powell (ELEANOR WERNERT, '27), and their sons, Donald and Andrew, of Sao Paulo, Brazil. Mr. Powell is secretary-treasurer of Goodyear of Brazil, a manufacturing subsidiary of the Goodyear Tire & Rubber Company. He has been a resident of South America for more than 18 years. The first twelve years were spent in Argentina and were followed by three years in Peru. He was transferred to Brazil about three years ago.

1928

O. E. HILL, superintendent of the Upper Arlington (Columbus) schools, is chairman of the Memorial Scholarship Fund of the Ohio Congress of Parents and Teachers, an organization enrolling almost 300,000 members. At the 43rd annual convention in September, Supt. Hill reported that he had received 640 scholarship applications from high school students and that 49 grants had been made, with most of the winners expecting to study for teaching positions in the elementary field where the need is greatest.

PAUL M. WALTON is manager of the gas division of the National Gas & Oil Corporation in Newark.

1929

ELLIS B. MIRACLE (see picture on page 15) is an instructor in Lash Senior High School, Zanesville, and assistant director of Ohio University's Zanesville Branch. The university's three branches—Chilli-

Joe T. McCullough
(See Class of 1931 Notes)

cothe, Portsmouth and Zanesville—are headed by assistant directors under the supervision of Prof. Albert C. Gubitz whose office is on the campus in Athens.

After teaching in Florida for ten years, MRS. LUCIE BUTLER MOYER, has returned to Ohio and is now teaching in the high school at Roscoe. She is living in nearby Coshocton.

1930

DONOVAN MANN (see picture on page 16), former vice president and sales manager of the Carlyle Tile Company in Ironton, is now comptroller and assistant treasurer of the Mosaic Tile Company in Zanesville. Mosaic Tile, which Carlyle is a subsidiary, is the largest manufacturer of floor and wall tile in the United States. It has subsidiary plants from New Jersey to California and sales offices and warehouses in all principal cities.

DR. ELMER D. WEST this fall resigned his various positions at the University of New Hampshire in Durham (associate professor of psychology, director of admissions and counseling, director of the summer sessions), to become program director for the American Institute for Research in Pittsburgh. He is also on the staff of the University of Pittsburgh as a lecturer in psychology. The research institute, located in the University of Pittsburgh's "Cathedral of Learning," is a non-profit organization established for the purpose of making scientific studies regarding human resources and their effective use.

1931

JOE T. MCCULLOUGH (see picture) formerly with the Division of Cultural Cooperation of the U. S. State Department in South America, is now teaching French at the University of California in Berkeley. Mr. McCullough is a brother of RUTH A. MCCULLOUGH, '37, assistant supervisor of the Cleveland Visiting Nurse Association.

Curtis J. Harwick, a brother of Mrs. J. Richard Lamb (MARY HARWICK, A. B. '31, A. M. '32) San Francisco, Calif., and Mrs. H. W. August (MELBA HARWICK, '22x), is reported to have died recently at his home in Akron. A native of Athens, Mr. Harwick attended the preparatory department at Ohio University. In 1922, he went to Akron where he was a chemist with the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Co. and where he became widely known as a pioneer in the development of rubber compounding materials. Later, he organized his own company, The Harwick Standard Chemical Co.

1932

From a district superintendency near Palo Alto, PAUL H. HENRY, moved this fall to Needles, Calif., to accept a position as school superintendent there. Needles, well known for its extreme heat, is located in the desert and on the banks of the silvery Colorado River across which can be seen the mountains of Arizona. Supt. Henry and Mrs. Henry (ELSIE ARMSTRONG, '30, 2-yr.), helped organize the San Francisco chapter of the Ohio University Alumni Association a year ago last summer and, although some 300 miles from Los Angeles, have requested that they be notified of meetings of the Los Angeles chapter in order that they may attend them. That's loyalty for you.

SAMMY KAYE, nationally-known orchestra conductor, has been listed as one of 1948's "ten best dressed men in America" by the Fashion Foundation of America. Sammy is in such select company as Governor Thomas E. Dewey, General Dwight D. Eisenhower, Actor James Stewart, and Winthrop Rockefeller. Maestro Kaye, who conducted a 13-week national contest to find a "Miss America Co-Ed," found a qualifier for the title early this month. She was Pattie Cotter of Louisiana State University.

ROSS A. SAMS (see page 16), a sales representative of the Tappan Stove Company of Mansfield, has won a six months' national sales contest, topping all other Tappan salesmen. Ross and his family, which consists of the missus and two children, Betsy Ross and Robert Alan, live in Grove City, Pa.

1933

The Cavaliers Chorus, a group of male singers directed by MERRILL DAVIS, was one of two musical organizations from Jackson that participated in the Gymanfa Ganu, or Welsh Song Festival, held Oct. 31 in Alumni Memorial Auditorium under the sponsorship of the Ohio University School of Music. Director Davis is a music supervisor in the Jackson public schools.

CHARLES E. BEACH is vice president and general manager of John C. Stallort & Sons, Inc., Baltimore, Md., manufacturers of chemicals, waxes, cleaners, etc., for such large distributors as A. & P. Safeway Stores, and some of the country's larger wholesalers which sell the products under their own labels. The company is reported to be one of Baltimore's largest locally-owned industries. Prior to entering military service about 1942, Mr. Beach was with the Maryland Finance Co., the vice presidency of which he was offered upon leaving the service. He declined the offer in order to accept his present position, but nevertheless was named to the board of directors of Maryland Finance.

MRS. ALICE DONLEY DEMELL, A.B. '33, A.M. '48, a graduate student and acting instructor in English at Ohio University last year, has been appointed to the faculty of Rio Grande College as instructor in English. She received a master's degree at her alma mater in August. Mrs. DeMell is the widow of VITIS N. DEMELL (Di Meglio), '34.

1934

ROBERT B. BATTERSBY is chief engineer for Plastic Manufacturers, Inc., at Stamford, Conn. With his family he lives in no-so-far-away Darien.

1935

MAJOR ANTHONY J. RACE, who re-entered army service a year ago and was stationed in Europe last winter, is now in Shanghai, China, as general counsel for the Foreign Liquidation Commissioner. His wife and two children expect him home (Arlington, Va.) for the Christmas holidays. A Washingtonian since graduation from Ohio University, Major Race has acquired a law degree from George Washington University and prior to entering the Army held positions with the Agricultural Adjustment Administration, the Railroad Retirement Board, and the Social Security Board.

DR. KENNETH WINETROUT is chairman of the education department of the American International College in Springfield, Mass. AIC is a private, coeducational institution.

1936

DR. K. ALVIN MERENDINO, assistant professor of surgery in the Medical School at the University of Minnesota, represented Ohio University last month at the inauguration of the president of Hamline University in St. Paul. On January 1, the Minnesota man, who is married and has a two and one-half year old daughter, will move his household to Seattle, Washington, where he will become associate professor of surgery at the University of Washington. An Ohio University Phi Beta, he graduated from the Yale University Medical School in 1940.

MRS. VIRGINIA HOOVER FRANKLIN, Springfield, is a part-time instructor in Spanish at Wittenberg College and at the Dayton YMCA College. She is also a member of the executive board of the Springfield YWCA. She was chairman of the "Baseball Night" committee at the Covenant Presbyterian Church which on Oct. 25 served a dinner to 350 men and boys. The principal speakers were Johnny Van der Meer and Gabe Paul of the Cincinnati Reds.

1937

DOROTHY W. MACARTHUR, a teacher in the Charleston, W. Va., schools, was a member of a group of classroom teachers which last year revised the courses of study for the primary and elementary grades in all of the schools of Kanawha County. West Virginia is on a county

Jean Dow

(See Class of 1948 Notes)

basis as far as school administration is concerned there being no separate "city schools."

RAYMOND F. NESS owns and operates The Ness Shop "For Wee Folks," located in the Arcade in Newark. Children's wear, as might be suspected, is the principal stock in trade.

1938

ROBERT W. MOORE is a public accountant associated with Jesse H. Baldwin, C.P.A., at 5 E. Long St., Columbus.

1939

CHESTER F. ADAMS (Adamczyk) is a veteran member and right tackle on the Cleveland Browns, two-time champions of the All-American football conference. The Browns won the league's western division championship recently by defeating the San Francisco 49'ers and are favored to cop another A.A. championship.

Holder of a lieutenant commander's commission in the United States Naval Reserve, RICHARD H. DRAKE is at present chief mate on a 10,000-ton Navy tanker. He is now enroute to Bremen, Germany, La Havre, France, and probably the Persian Gulf.

STANLEY S. INWOOD (formerly Iwucz), Cleveland, is photographer-trainer for the Buffalo (N. Y.) Bills, professional football team in the Eastern Division of the All-American League. Stan was a guard on Bobcat football teams of his day.

1940

ARNOLD P. PAULK is assistant chief chemist of the Naugatuck Chemical Division of the United States Rubber Company at Naugatuck, Conn. He is in charge of the plant control laboratory and the rubber testing laboratory with nearly 100 workers under his supervision. During the war years he was assistant chief, and then chief at the Sciota Ordnance Plant which was operated by the U. S. Rubber Company. Married to a former New York City model, he is now the father of a two and one-half year old son, Barry Arnold.

HERBERT H. STICKNEY, recipient of a degree in commerce from Ohio University, was graduated from the University of Florida on Sept. 4 with the degree of Bachelor of Laws. He attended the Florida school for one year and prior to that was enrolled for a year in the law school at Stanford University. While in Palo Alto, Mrs. Stickney (PHYLLIS JACOBS, '43x) completed degree work at Stanford, graduating magna cum laude in 1947 with a major in sociology. She was elected to membership in Stanford's Phi Beta Kappa chapter. Last year she served as a social welfare visitor in the state of Florida.

HERBERT J. SEAKWOOD is an attorney with Patterson, Belknap & Webb, a law firm headed by former Secretary of War Robert P. Patterson, and located at One Wall St., in New York City.

1941

In reporting the birth of a daughter (see page 22), JOHN A. MCKINVEN disclosed that the new arrival, Nancy Erica, was born "with blue eyes and a full crop of Auburn hair." The mother is the former DORIS KILLINEN, '41. The father, who is associated with an advertising agency in Cleveland, is the author of "How to Prepare Art and Copy for Offset Lithography" soon to be published by the Dorval Publishing Co.

An air tragedy? Well, not of too serious a nature. On Homecoming Day (October 23) CAPT. THOMAS E. MORGAN, JR., flew an Air Force B-25 to within 50 miles of Athens with the thought of paying his alma mater a visit. However, since the Ohio University airport has no radio facilities for bringing planes in, the military flight service would not allow him to land. Turning about, he returned to Scott Field, Ill., as Tom puts it, "with a heavy heart."

LIEUT. LAVERNE L. SIEMBT, until recently stationed at the Bureau of Supplies and Accounts, Navy Field Branch, Cleveland, has been sent to the Marshall Islands in the Pacific as accounting officer for the Naval Air Station on Kwajalein. It will be a twelve months' tour of duty. Mrs. Siembt (CARYL WALLS, '41) is remaining behind at her home in Rarden.

1942

LIEUT. DWIGHT A. RILEY, JR. has returned to the States after spending three years with the American Army of Occupation in Germany. On January 2 he will report for temporary duty at Ft. Benning, Ga., after which he will be stationed with the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project at Sandia Base, Albuquerque, New Mexico. In Germany, he served as aide to Brig. Gen. Shingler. Lieut. Riley graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point in 1945 with high honors.

MARY MCGAREY, a member of the staff of the Columbus Dispatch and president of the Ohio Newspaper Women's Association, won four major awards at the ONWA convention in Cleveland, October 15-16. These awards are given annually

J. W. "Willie" McCutcheon
(See Class of 1948 Notes)

for outstanding work in a number of professional categories. Miss McGarey is at the present time making arrangements with Ohio University, through her old tutor, Director George Starr Lasher of the School of Journalism, for an Ohio Newspaper Women's Seminar to be held sometime after the first of the new year. The moderator and speakers for the seminar will include some of the top names in the field of journalism.

1943

Mrs. George Cozma (VIOLA GEORGESCU), has been elected president of the Auxiliary to the New Mexico Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons for 1948-49. She is also business manager of the Cozma Hospital and Clinic in East Vaughn, New Mexico, which is operated by her husband. In another extracurricular capacity, Mrs. Cozma is the public relations chairman of the Vaughn Girl Scout Council and a member of the public relations committee of the Coronada Area Girl Scout Association (eastern New Mexico).

WILLIAM J. MCGEE is assistant sales manager of the Charles Mayer Studios in Akron, which, "Mickey" asserts, "is the most thoroughly equipped photographic plant in Ohio."

Out in Little Rock, Ark., GLADYS E.

POST is a physical therapy consultant to the Arkansas Children's Home and Hospital, the Missouri-Pacific Hospital Association, and the Arkansas State Chapter of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

1944

SOL MATT, former acting instructor in electrical engineering at Ohio University, is now in his second year as a graduate student at the California Institute of Technology in Pasadena.

BETTY E. PIERPOINT, a typist with the Veterans Administration in Columbus, has written a poem which will appear in "Important American Poets and Song-writers of 1948," a volume which will soon be published by Valiant House of New York City.

1945

After practicing osteopathy in Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, for some months, DR. JOSEPH J. MARKINE, ex, moved to Elkton, S. D., where he expects soon to establish a clinic and hospital. He is the sole doctor in an area having a radius of 20 miles. He is city health officer in his community and a member of the Brookings, S. D., Rotary Club.

MARY MARTHA GERLACH, a teacher in the Portsmouth city schools, assisted in the preparations for a tea given by the Portsmouth Branch of the American Association of University Women, Nov. 17, for junior and senior high school girls. The A.A.U.W. members encouraged their guests to go on to college, if possible, and Miss Gerlach was of course interested in seeing to it that her alma mater was brought to the attention of the girls.

1946

Success, spelled with capital letters, is marking the efforts of JOSEPH R. PAHLE, a commercial artist in Chattanooga, Tenn. Joe is working with the Power and Condon Advertising Agency and doing freelance art work on the side. Although he modestly reports that "I'm a long, long way from setting the world on fire with my work, I have managed to get ads in such magazines as Life, Saturday Evening Post, Ladies Home Journal, and McCall's to mention the biggest, and I have designed labels and packages for Lilly Mills, Lance, and numerous hosiery companies, and I have also done work for Coca-Cola, Goodyear, and Standard Oil. Artist Pahle is married and the father of a 23-month-old daughter, Linda Jean.

For the past two years, DORIS J. BROWN has owned and operated a custom-made dress shop in Marietta known as "Dorie Skirts." Her business is located in the new First National Bank Building.

From a department managership, FRANK W. AYRES has been promoted to the position of divisional consultant for all sales-supporting departments in the big F. & R. Lazarus & Co. store in Columbus. Some other Ohioans associated with the Lazarus store are FLOYD GIBSON, '37, traffic manager; ROBERT A. MASTERTON, '37, a buyer in the men's furnishings department; ROBERT G. VANDEMARK, '44, in the research department; and RUTH VAN DYKE LIGHTY, '44, in the Misses Sportswear department.

1947

RICHARD N. KIRBY and Mrs. Kirby (DOLORES SENKFOR, '47), (see marriages) flew to Paris four days after their wedding in St. Cecilia's Church in Cleveland. Mrs. Kirby reports that "in spite of our limited time (Dick works long hours and I'm busy studying French five afternoons a week), we've managed to see and do a great many things ranging from the Mona Lisa and the Venus de Milo at the Louvre to the can-can girls at the Bel-Tabarin. And, of course, we've walked through the Tuileries gardens; eaten lunch at the Eiffel Tower overlooking U. N.'s home, the Palais de Chaillot; prayed at Notre Dame; and sipped tea at the numerous sidewalk cafes, including the Cafe des la Paix."

June Gruber
(See Class of 1948 Notes)

MELVIN WEINSTEIN, a market research analyst for an eastern advertising organization, has done considerable traveling during the past 16 months, visiting such scattered points as Montreal, Chicago, St. Louis, and Los Angeles.

ROBERT C. ELLSON is now completing his middle year on work for a Bachelor of Divinity degree at Union Theological Seminary, New York City. Along with his studies, he holds the position of assistant counselor to protestant students at Columbia University. While on the Ohio University campus, he was active in the Westminster Foundation of the Presbyterian Church. To help meet expenses in the big city, Mrs. Ellson (CAROLYN CURL, '47), has taken a position with the J. P. Stevens Company, a firm in the heart of the textile district.

MARJORIE M. TRENTANELLI is engaged in advertising production—"Which includes all the mechanical angles of composing an ad, and is interesting and fun"—with Fuller & Smith & Ross, Inc., a prominent Cleveland advertising agency.

(Continued on page 23)

As promised last month, the picture of the Keller-Baughman wedding party is reproduced in this issue. The high contracting parties are JANICE KELLER, '44, Charleston, W. Va., now a stenographer in the office of Dean A. H. Armbruster (Commerce) at Ohio University, and MAX U. BAUGHMAN, '47, who is continuing at his alma mater as a graduate student in psychology. The wedding took place June 26, 1948. In the picture the first five persons, left to right, are Ohioans. They are: FREDERICK W. ROSSER, '48, an usher; JUNE WALLACE CLAYMORE, '45, a bridesmaid; WILLIAM L. ROBERTS, '48, best man; and the groom and his bride.

BETTY DEAHL, '46 (picture later), formerly of Willoughby but now a high school teacher in Pontiac, Mich., to Charles L. Fournier, Pontiac, with General Motors Truck Corp., June 17, 1948. At home: 78 S. Marshall St., Pontiac, Mich. Among the members of the bridal party were Mrs. Fournier's sister, JEANNE DEAHL HOWARD, '42x, the latter's husband, WILLIAM "CAPPY" HOWARD, '41, and ELEANORE ROMAN, '46.

DOLORES SENKFOR, '47, Cleveland, to RICHARD N. KIRBY, '47, Washington, D. C., chief, cable and telegraphic unit, Economic Cooperation Administration (Paris, France), Aug. 3, 1948. The bridesmaids were MARGO HARTMAN, '48, and BETTY KETTLER, '48x. ROBERT D. STAKICK, '47x, was an usher. Until permanent quarters can be secured in the French capital, mail should be directed to this Ohio University couple in care of ECA, OSR, American Embassy, Paris, France.

DOROTHY "TOMIE" TOMPKINS, '43, Cedar Grove, W. Va., temporary actress, to JAMES H. DYAS, Cleveland, '46, also on the professional stage in New York City and elsewhere, Nov. 6, 1948. At home, until further notice, 262 W. 52nd St., New York, N. Y. For a further reference to this Ohio University couple, see page 10.

Mary Louise Over, Manhasset, N. Y., to J. HOWARD HOUK, JR., '39, Indiana, Pa., credit analyst, Chase National Bank (New York City), Oct. 6, 1948. At home: 132 Bellevue Ave., Upper Montclair, N. J.

MARtha JO WISE, '50x, Athens, secretary with Beasley & Mathews, Inc., to C. RANDALL SMITH, Akron, Ohio University senior, Sept. 26, 1948. At home: 2 Townsend St., Athens. The bride is the daughter of Head Football Coach HAROLD E. WISE, '28, and Mrs. Wise (JULIA PORTER, '25x), Athens.

RUTH B. LAWSON, '46 (picture later), Youngstown, director of continuity and women's programs, Radio Station WPDx (Clarksburg, W. Va.), to Robert V. Walsh, New York City, program director, WPDx, Nov. 6, 1948. At home: 605 Buckingham Ave., Clarksburg, W. Va.

MARGARET JANE "PEGGY" SHEARD, '48, Oxford, with Oxford National Bank, to Merl E. Sayers, Miami University student, Sept. 4, 1948. The honeymoon was spent at Atlantic City at the time of the "Miss America" contest. At home: 204 N. Main St., Oxford. Bridesmaids: BETTY LAMB, '48, Canal Winchester, and MARY ELLEN WILLIAMS, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio University sophomore.

Marriages

VERNA M. HANKE, '46, Bridgeport, health and recreation director, YWCA (Ft. Wayne, Ind.), to PAUL J. DOBBINS, JR., '48, Martins Ferry, test engineer, General Electric Co. (Ft. Wayne), July

Mr. and Mrs. Max U. Baughman and Wedding Party

14, 1948. Only temporarily in Ft. Wayne, mail for these Ohioans should be directed to the groom's home address: 922 S. 10th St., Martins Ferry.

ELIZABETH LUCE, '48, Xenia, stenographer, Wright-Patterson Airforce Base (Dayton), to Philip E. Lang, Xenia, with base communications, Wright-Patterson AFB, Oct. 3, 1948. At home: 240 Pleasant St., Xenia.

PHOEBE SACHEROFF, '50x, Cleveland Heights, to JACK S. MOSS, '48, Cleveland Heights, junior executive, Garry Allen Sportswear, Nov. 7, 1948. At home: 3402 Dellwood Rd., Cleveland Heights.

JACQUELINE DOUGLASS, '47, formerly of Rocky River, but recently with her parents in Maracaibo, Venezuela, to Howard V. Guiot, St. Louis, Mo., in the West Park Congregational Church, Rocky River, Oct., 1948. MARJORIE TRENTAN-ELLI, '47, Cleveland, was the bride's attendant. Mr. and Mrs. Guiot will return to Maracaibo in December.

ELIZABETH C. DEUCHLER, '42, Lyons, N. Y., medical technologist, Jameson Memorial Hospital (New Castle, Pa.), to J. Robert Bowen, Youngstown, with Youngstown Automotive Parts Co., Sept. 11, 1948. At home: 311 E. Judson Ave., Youngstown.

ROSE M. VACHON, '49x, Cleveland Heights, to Dr. William H. Kunkel, Pittsburgh, chief resident physician, ear, nose and throat division, Lakeside Hospital (Cleveland), Sept. 11, 1948. The newlyweds are currently at home at 1084 Rush-leigh Rd., Cleveland Heights, but after the first of the coming year will reside at 6317 Forbes St., Pittsburgh, Pa.

Sally Anne Smith, Lakewood, elementary teacher (Cleveland), to KENNETH W. BARKHAUER, '48, Cleveland, former Ohio University drum major and now a sales representative of Remington Rand, Inc. At home: 15617 Normandy Ave., Cleveland.

ALLYENE G. INGALL, '46, Cleveland, nurse, with Toledo Public Health Dept., to Dr. Anton J. De Fede, Wellsburg, W. Va., interne, Toledo Hospital (Toledo), June 12, 1948. At home: 401 W. Bancroft St., Toledo. Maid of honor: JEANE E. INGALL, '48x, the bride's sister.

GRACE HYMAN, '46, Bronx, N. Y., Department of Welfare, New York City, to Herbert Davidoff, also with the N.Y.C. Dept. of Welfare, May, 1948. At home: 1426 Harrod Ave., Bronx, N. Y.

MARJORIE A. WILLIAMS, '47, Alexandria, high school teacher, to DONALD M. BYRD, '50x, Alexandria, student, Law School, Ohio State University (Columbus), Aug. 14, 1948. At home: R.F.D. 1, Alexandria.

In reporting the marriage of JOAN KIMNACH, '47, Parkersburg, W. Va., to JOSEPH M. LEHR, '48, Mansfield, in the October Alumnus, their "at home" address was given as 14454 Superior Rd., Shaker Heights. The Lehrs, however, live in the neighboring suburb of Cleveland Heights at the street address given. Mrs. Lehr is a service representative of the Bell Telephone Co. in Cleveland, while her husband attends the Western Reserve University School of Law.

MIRIAM O. LYON, '48, Stow, to JACK R. DURST, '48, Stow, Sept. 18, 1948. The groom entered Ohio State University this fall in the pursuit of a doctorate in chemistry. At home: 143 Brighton Rd., Columbus. Bridesmaid: MILDRED JONES, '48, Erie, Pa.

EVELYN J. ROGERS, '45, Lorain, kindergarten teacher, Oakwood School, to Wilson W. Abrams, Sandusky, July 5, 1947. At home: 233 Georgia Ave., Lorain.

SHIRLEY A. SHENBERGER, '48, Ashland, now recipient for Dr. L. I. GOLDBERG, '36, (Athens), to RICHARD CONOVER, Cleveland, Ohio University senior, Aug. 18, 1948. At home: 11½ S. May Ave., Athens.

BETTY W. SAUER, '44, East Liverpool, librarian, St. Louis Star-Times (St. Louis, Mo.), to EDGAR O. GALYON, JR., '45x, Edgewood, Pa., designer, William Wurdock Electric Co. (St. Louis), April 3, 1948. At home: 4623A Carrie Ave., St. Louis, Mo. Mrs. William C. Stewart (DORIS PERRY, '43), Mt. Vernon, was the bride's attendant.

Minnie E. Waters, Wellston, teacher, Gallia Academy High School (Gallipolis), to ROBERT G. MACKENZIE, '50x, Gallipolis, June 20, 1948. At home: 535½

Third Ave., Gallipolis. Matron of honor: the bride's sister-in-law, MRS. CAROLYN LEWIS WATERS, '43, Wellston.

MARY ROSE RICKER, '42, A.M. '46, Cleveland, dean, Freshman Hall, University of Oklahoma (Norman, Okla.), to Earl J. Cherry, graduate student, University of Oklahoma, Aug. 7, 1948. At home: 125 1/2 W. Lynn, Norman, Okla.

NOREEN J. KIRKNER, '47 (see picture), Youngstown, receptionist, Radio Station WKBN, to Cecil H. Dornbrock, student-

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil H. Dornbrock

veteran, Youngstown College, Aug. 28, 1948. At home: 28 Hampton Ave., Youngstown. The wedding soloist was PATRICIA DENTON, '47, Portsmouth, a classmate of the bride, while LOIS ROACH, '47, Marietta, and ELEANOR MAXWELL, '47, West Union, W. Va., were aides at the reception. There were a number of other Ohio University friends in attendance.

BETTY J. DANES, '47, Cleveland, analytical chemist, General Chemical Co., to John H. Fitzgerald, Jr., student, Western Reserve University, Oct. 30, 1948. At home: 12713 Watterson Ave., Cleveland.

PATRICIA A. LENHART, '47, Huntington, W. Va., to John E. Scheiffel, Huntington, a recent graduate of Washington & Lee University now practicing law in Huntington, Dec., 1947. The marriage has only recently been reported. At home: 726-13th Ave., Huntington, W. Va. Mrs. Scheiffel is a sister of Mrs. Edward L. Conrad (RACHEL LENHART, '46), Somerville, Mass.

MARGUERITE FAHR, '46, Wooster, high school teacher (Burbank), to Robert K. Stollwagen, with the Ceylon E. Hudson Brokerage Office (Wooster), June 26, 1948. At home: Wooster. Mrs. Edward

H. Dotzlaif (CHARLOTTE KING, '46), Athens, was matron of honor for her classmate.

MARY ELISABETH KESSINGER, '33, M.Ed., '40, Nelsonville, high school teacher (Lancaster), to John D. Van Gundy, Lancaster, building contractor, Oct. 16, 1948. At home: 112 W. Allen St., Lancaster.

HELEN L. KAHLER, '45, Willoughby, to Howard C. Lacy, metallurgical engineer, National Tube Co. (Lorain), Aug. 14, 1948. At home: 226 Huron Rd., Vermilion.

Mary Margaret Graham, Athens, with the McBee Company, to JOHN E. KIRCHER, '23, 2-yr., Athens, with engineering department, Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., May 31, 1948. At home: 3 Putnam Drive, Athens.

CORINNE "CORKY" PARKER, '46, Westerville, formerly with Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., to NEWTON GUTTER, '47, Cleveland, traveling auditor, the Sears Roebuck & Co., Sept. 18, 1948. At home: 1744 Chapman Ave., East Cleveland. Mrs. Gutter is a sister of WARREN "ACE" PARKER, '40x, Westerville.

CHARLOTTE "CHARLIE" BAKER, '49x, Youngstown, bridal consultant, Strauss-Hirshburg Co., to Robert Baer, Youngstown, time study engineer, General Fireproofing Co., Youngstown, Aug. 14, 1948. At home: 63 Overhill Rd., Youngstown. Mrs. Baer is a sister of Mrs. John P. DeMolet, Jr., (GEORGIANA "GENE" BAKER, '46), Cincinnati.

MRS. ANNABELL SMITH MILLER, '30x, Columbus, with the law office of Scarlett & Jones, to MAX L. BUNCE, '32, Gallipolis, with State Department of Health (Lancaster), Aug. 19, 1948. At home: Lancaster.

EARLINE HUMPHREY, '44, Reedsville, to Leonard R. Stone, Cleveland, with Republic Steel Corp., July 24, 1948. At home: 14014 Savannah Ave., East Cleveland.

MARY M. KENNEDY, '47, Athens, laboratory technician, Municipal Hospital, Lancaster, to John B. Murphy, Jr., Lancaster, student-veteran, Ohio State University (Columbus), Sept. 6, 1948. At home: 633 East Chestnut St., Lancaster.

MARY JANE SHAY, '47, Cleveland, teacher, Troy High School (Coolville), to ARCHIE M. GREER, Cleveland, Ohio University senior, March 30, 1948. At home: 161 Grosvenor St., Athens.

BARBARA E. HANKISON, '44, Nelsonville, teacher, Ward Twp. High School (Carbon Hill), to FRANKLIN W. DOWNHOUR, '47, Union Furnace, teacher, Ward High School, Nov. 6, 1948.

BEA JOHNSON, '47, Jackson Center, medical technologist, Mt. Carmel Hospital (Columbus), to Robert L. Wiessinger, Capital University junior, Aug. 22, 1948. At home: 144 S. Monroe St., Apt. B., Columbus.

ARLINE H. KOHN, '46, Bronx, N. Y., teacher, Harren High School (New York City), to Max Halfon, New York City, student, College of the City of New York, July 17, 1948. At home: 3444 Knox Place, Bronx, N. Y.

NORMA JEAN MCCARLEY, '47, Rio Grande, high school teacher (Wickliffe), to CHARLES W. EDWARDS, '48, Amsterdam, law student, Western Reserve University (Cleveland), Sept. 4, 1948. At home: 29155 Elm Ave., Wickliffe. Mrs. Edwards is a niece of ETHEL M. MCCARLEY, '15, Rio Grande.

MARJORIE J. WEIMER, '43 (see picture), Findlay, former teacher, Hancock

Mrs. Roymond L. Greding

County schools, to Raymond L. Greding, Bluffton, hardware merchant, March 21, 1948. At home: 123 Cherry St., Bluffton.

HELEN A. MCKIBBEN, '34, Zaleski, instructor, piano, Stephens College (Columbia, Mo.), to David F. Thomas, Proctorville, engineer, St. Mary's Hospital (Huntington, W. Va.), Aug. 12, 1948. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. CARROLL H. KITTS, '29, a cousin of the bridegroom, at the Kitts home in Miamisburg. At home: Proctorville.

PATRICIA JANE AUPING, '50x, Cleveland, to RICHARD B. LAMOND, A.M. '47, Youngstown, June 11, 1948. At home: 23 Halls Heights, Youngstown.

DORIS L. ABEL, '42, Parkersburg, W. Va., kindergarten supervisor, public schools (Columbus, Ohio), to W. Vernon Lytle, Jr., part owner and general manager, John Ek Corp. (Clinton, Conn.), Nov. 14, 1948. At home, after Dec. 15: Clinton, Conn.

Of interest, although an event of Mar. 30, 1947, is the marriage of Rose E. Rubb, Brooklyn, N. Y., to EDWARD J. MARGOLIS, '47, University Heights, a graduate in Sept. 1947 of the Western Reserve University Law School. At home: 14401 Milverton Road, Cleveland.

.. Births ..

Candis Lee to WILLIAM R. GRAY, '41, and Mrs. Gray, 305 Marathon Ave., Apt. 3, Dayton, Oct. 5, 1948. Mr. Gray is display manager and artist for the Lerner Shops, Inc., in Dayton.

Barbara Jo to ROBERT L. WERTMAN, '41, and Mrs. Wertman, 23982 Frank St., Rocky River, Oct. 5, 1948. The father is associate editor of The Sohioan, a magazine published by the Standard Oil Company of Ohio for its employees. (See reference to "The Sohioan" on page 4).

Grace Anne to Mr. and Mrs. John Bardes, Jr. (SUZANNA REESER, '38), 3711 N. Capitol Ave., Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 3, 1948. Mr. Bardes is a mechanical engineer with Bevington, Tygart & Fowler, a firm of consulting engineers.

Jeffrey Briggs to E. BRIGGS GAMBLEE, '43, and Mrs. Gamblee (JOANNE DUKE, '47), 517 Albin Ave., Washington C. H. Mr. Gamblee is a sales representative of the Springfield Metallic Supply Casket Co.

Paul B. Kerr, III, to PAUL B. KERR, II, '40, and Mrs. Kerr, 142 N. Lancaster St., Athens, April 22, 1948. Mr. Kerr is a special student (pre-med) at Ohio University this fall. The new arrival's paternal grandparents are Mrs. BERENICE BARNES KERR, '11, West Milton, and the late PAUL B. KERR, '10.

John Richard to RICHARD E. SWARTZEL, '43, and Mrs. Swartzel (FRANCES TOLSON, '43), 4419 Holdrege St., Lincoln, Nebr., Jan. 4, 1948. Mr. Swartzel, a chemist with the Goodyear Tire and Rubber Co., was recently transferred from Akron to Lincoln.

Pictured below are James Greenlees Good; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald E. Good (RUTH GREENLEES, '41), Ravenswood, W. Va.; and the Rev. JOHN W. MEISTER, '38, Sidney. The picture was taken June 6 when Jimmie was 6 months old and just prior to his baptism by the Sidney minister. The father is an instructor in Ravenswood High School.

Rebecca Margaret to EDWIN B. "TED" EVANS, '47, and Mrs. Evans, R.F.D. 2, Cleveland Rd., Wooster, Oct. 13, 1948.

James Greenlees Good, Parents, and Minister

Mr. Evans is manager of Radio Station WWST in Wooster. The new arrival's mother, who was Miss Marjorie Carlson of Minnesota, is a graduate of the National College of Education in Evanston, Ill., and, with her husband, took courses at Ohio University following the war. Little Rebecca Margaret is a granddaughter of RHYS D. EVANS, '09, an Ohio University trustee, and Mrs. Evans (MARY CHAPPELEAR, '09), Akron. Her two uncles are ROBERT B. EVANS, '34, Toledo, and D. WILLIAM EVANS, '40, Cleveland Heights.

Frances Marie to Mr. and Mrs. Joseph R. Blake (SELMA BECHDOLT, '36), 15 Alden St., Hartford, Conn., June 6, 1948. Mrs. Blake carried on a free lance advertising service—prior to November 2—for the publicity director of the Connecticut State Republican Committee. The new daughter was named for an aunt, Mrs. Raymond A. Horton (MARIE BECHDOLT, '28), Los Angeles, Calif.

Flora Jeanne to KENNETH F. ROBBINS, '39, and Mrs. Robbins (FRANCES HARTMAN, '40), Cannelton, W. Va., Feb. 13, 1948. Mr. Robbins is chief engineer for the Cannelton Coal & Coke Co. The paternal grandfather is MINOR K. ROBBINS, '11x, Lakewood, while an uncle and aunt, on the mother's side, are COMMANDER HERBERT J. HARTMAN, '35x, Corpus Christi, Texas, and Mrs. E. L. SPENGLER, '38, Cannelton, W. Va.

Many of the births reported in this issue were events of several months ago. In most instances, however, the good news has only recently reached the editor.

Nancy Marie to EDWIN B. "TED" RALL, Jr., '38, and Mrs. Rall, 414 N. East Ave., Jackson, Mich., July 13, 1948. Mr. Rall is a district sales representative of the Graybar Electric Co.

Sharee Sharlene to RICHARD C. SOLIDAY, '46, and Mrs. Soliday (SHIRLEY BUHOPE, '44), 14715 S. Williams Ave., Compton, Calif. Mr. Soliday is a junior executive with the Coleman Co. in Los Angeles.

Annette Roberta to Dr. and Mrs. R. D. Thomas (HARRIET HALLER, '34), 12 Vinton Ave., Gallipolis, June 3, 1948. Dr. Thomas is an optometrist. Little Annette has a host of Ohio University relatives.

David to Mr. and Mrs. David G. Weber (ELEANOR STAFFORD, '32, A.M. '33), 1810 Wayne St., Toledo, Oct. 7, 1948.

Linda Diane to ERIC E. PEARSON, '48 and Mrs. Pearson (LUCILE KUDER, '43), 268 S. Summit St., Bowling Green, April 2, 1948. Mr. Pearson is employed with the Larro Feeds Division of General Mills, Inc., at Rossford.

Leigh Barbara to MOR-

William Harold Harkins, Jr.

TON C. GROSSMAN, M.S. '47, and Mrs. Grossman, Apt. 51-B, Badger Village, Badger, Wisc., Aug. 27, 1948. Mr. Grossman is a research associate in economics at the University of Wisconsin, studying national employment.

William Harold Harkins, Jr. (see picture) is being carefully groomed by his dad, HAROLD "HECK" HARKINS, '43, for a place on Bobcat baseball teams a few years hence. The father played short-stop position and in 1942 was a member of the Ohio University team that scored victories over Ohio State, Pittsburgh, West Virginia, and Mickey Cochrane's famous Great Lakes Naval Training Station team. He is now coaching basketball and baseball at Windsor High School, Stockport.

Frank David to FRANK J. SZALAY, '42, A.M. '47, and Mrs. Szalay, 1180 Shenandoah Rd., San Marino, Calif., Sept. 30, 1948. The father, a brother of the late ENSIGN ANDREW T. SZALAY, '42, and of WILLIAM V. SZALAY, '47, Lower Lake, Mich., is football and track coach at City College, Long Beach, Calif.

Harold Franklin, II, a fourth child, to Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Wellman (JEANNETTE WARDEN, '36), 65 Pine St., Geneva, April 30, 1948. Mr. Wellman is a salesman for the Cortland Line Co. and well known in the sporting goods field as an expert in casting.

Susan Dorey to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Henock (DORIS SOLOMON, '46), 3911 Old Dominion Blvd., Apt. 4., Alexandria, Va., March 21, 1948. Mr. Henock will graduate from George Washington University on Feb. 22, an appropriate date.

Nancy Erica to JOHN A. MCKINVEN, '41, and Mrs. McKinven (DORIS KILLINEN, '41), 319 Mentor Ave., Painesville, Aug. 30, 1948. Mr. McKinven is associate accounting executive with Fuller & Smith & Ross, Inc., a Cleveland advertising concern.

Deaths

STEPHEN MICLETE HAFFEY

STEPHEN M. HAFFEY, '03, 2-yr., retired superintendent of the Southern Division of the Columbus and Southern Ohio Electric Co., and a former Athens resident, died Aug. 22, 1948, at his home in Columbus. He was 65 years of age.

With Mrs. Haffey, he moved from Athens to Columbus 20 years ago. He retired from his executive position with the utilities concern three years ago.

Besides the wife, his survivors include a brother, WILLIAM H. HAFFEY, 07, 2-yr., Oklahoma City, Okla. Burial was in Canal Winchester, the community of his birth.

ROYAL LEWIS FARST

LEWIS FARST, '26, Uniontown, died Oct. 9, 1948, following surgery in an Akron hospital.

A lifelong resident of the Akron area, he had been associated with the Firestone Tire & Rubber Co. and the Retail Credit Co. in Akron, and had been manager of the Canton office of the latter company. He was a resident of nearby Uniontown and associated with the Farm Bureau Insurance Company in Akron at the time of his death.

Mr. Farst's survivors include his wife, the former DOROTHY L. JONES, '27, and a daughter, Nancy, age 13.

ROBERT DALE TERREL

ROBERT D. TERREL, '39, Lancaster, Pa., died in a motor court cabin near Baltimore, Md., Oct. 20, 1948. Death was caused by suffocation from smoke fumes originating from a burning chair in the cabin.

An electrical engineering major at Ohio University Mr. Terrel has been a representative of a Springfield firm for the past two years.

The fire victim was the son of Mrs. William E. Terrel (KATHRYN HOLT, '17x), Gore, and a brother of RALPH W. E. TERREL, '39, Logan. Two years ago he married Miss Betty Ravenscraft, Greenfield, who, with a son, Danny, survives him.

NEWS FROM THE CENTERS

(Continued from page 11)

Dr. Baker, who was presented by Mr. LaFrance, was pleased to find the Toledoans had invited the parents of Ohio University students in their area and that there was a fine representation of the latter group present.

Indianapolis

After a period of inactivity that included the war years, alumni in the capital of the Hoosier state got together, Nov. 12, for a rousing reunion on the eve of the Butler-Ohio football game. The spirited party (don't misunderstand the adjective) was held at the home of K. Mark Cowen, '22, and Mrs. Cowen (Emma Helsel, '22), who, with Mrs. R. L. McKay (Mary Jane Collins, '16), were leaders in the chapter reactivation movement.

AMONG THE ALUMNI

(Continued from page 19)

1948

JEAN DOW (see picture on page 18), who in her campus career received many prizes and recognitions for scholarship, holds the No. 1 spot, scholastically, among the 806 persons who received degrees from Ohio University during 1948. Miss Dow, a June graduate and now teaching in Loren-Andrews Junior High School, Massillon, had a four-year point average of 3.923, with 4.0 being a perfect record. She is the daughter of Dr. Clarence L. Dow, professor of geography and geology at Ohio University. The nine next highest ranking members of the Class of 1948, with their averages, are: JOHN L. BROWN, JR., 3.922; WILLIAM F. YOUNGMAN, 3.902; GERALDINE M. DAVIES, 3.901; WILLIAM H. MARSHALL, 3.880; ROBERT W. MCCREANOR, 3.853; RALPH E. SCHEY, 3.821; RONALD E. CALENDINE, 3.783; RONALD W. BAMBECK, 3.780; and NANCY E. QUACKENBUSH, now Mrs. Ed. Mazzocco, 3.776.

JUNE GRUBER (see page 19) and JULIAN MCQUISTON are engaged in graduate study at Columbia University this fall, the former in the field of English and the latter in history. Miss Gruber was a recipient of one of the Ohio University Fund Awards for 1948. Mr. McQuiston is the son of Raymer McQuiston, professor of English at Ohio University.

J. WILLIAM McCUTCHEON (see page 19), who is seeking to establish himself in the field of radio entertainment in New York City, has had at least one good break since arriving in Gotham. On October 20 he appeared as "Willie" in the Barry Wood production of the Kobb Koners Show which was televised by the Columbia Broadcasting system. Included in the cast were Hope Emerson and the Korn Kobbler. Modestly, Bill explains that he appeared as a guest artist and not as a regular feature.

JACK NEENAN, a salesman in the McBee Company's office in Providence, R. I., would like to secure a copy of The 1948 Athena. Since the staff of last year's annual enjoyed a 100% sale of their product, there are no copies available through the university office. Anyone having a 1948 yearbook that he is willing to sell should communicate with Jack. His residence address is 40 Baldwin Ave., E. Providence, R. I.

RICHARD G. SHRIDER, the Bobcat's top scoring ace in basketball last year and one of the leaders in the Mid-American Conference, is now playing with the New York Knickerbockers in the Basketball Association of America, a fast professional loop.

Athenians attending the party were Coach and Mrs. Harold Wise, Coaches Jim Snyder and Frank Rich-ey, Publicity Director Vic Sherow, and the Alumni Secretary and Mrs. Williams.

Following refreshments and the singing of university songs a business session was held during which Mr. Cowen was elected president and Mrs. Justin E. Jordan (Elizabeth Ong, '34), secretary, of the chapter for the coming year.

Engagements

Doris M. Standing

DORIS M. STANDING, '48 (see picture), Bridgeville, Pa., preliminary interviewer, employment office, Kaufman's Dept. Store (Pittsburgh), to WAYNE L. RITTER, '48, Ashland, associated with the American Home Foods Company of New York. The wedding is planned to take place next May.

VIRGINIA K. HODGE, '48, Washington C. H., high school teacher (Sabina), to KENNETH K. KIER, Wilmington, Ohio University senior.

JEANNE S. HYDOVITZ, '40, Pittsburgh, Pa., to Edward Glick, Williamsport, Pa., a partner in the Williamsport Iron and Metal Co. January 30 is the date set for the wedding.

BETTY LOU BROWN, '48, Elizabeth, N. J., supervisor, Peter Pan Cottage, Ohio Soldiers' and Sailors' Orphans' Home (Xenia), to HALDOR G. SHIELDS, '50x, Jackson, a student at Ohio State University. The wedding will be an event of next June.

Gloria Danzig, New Haven, Conn., to HAROLD D. KENT, '46, New Haven, owner, Men's Formal Attire Store.

RUTH O. GENTRY, '46, Athens, assistant in Department of Young People's Work, Presbyterian Church of the U.S.A. (Philadelphia, Pa.), to ROBERT C. SILLER, '47, Fair Haven, N. J., with Yale University News Bureau (New Haven, Conn.). Miss Gentry is the daughter of Dr. J. R. Gentry, Ohio University professor of psychology, and Mrs. Gentry, and a sister of DOROTHY E. GENTRY, '40, M.Ed. '43, Butler.

BEVERLY J. BAKER, University Heights, Ohio University sophomore, to ALAN R. COHEN, '48, Cleveland Heights, with the Unger Company (Cleveland).

to mirror the year

Purchase Before Jan. 10

. . . Price $4.50

On Time in '49

ART BEAN—EDITOR

PAUL CORUSY—BUSINESS MANAGER

THE GIRLS OF HOWARD HALL won't want to forget their parties—parties that will spell Ohio University in future years. This has been college. To record these memories, to have them ready at the slightest command, is the ATHENA, the book of their Ohio University year.

Memories of football games, of that wise old professor, the fraternity and other activities—none need be forgotten. Within the bindings of the ATHENA is the history of an adventure—an adventure that grew with each glorious and passing year. The ATHENA is insurance that nothing will push Ohio University beyond recall.

A restored Cutler, the Chemistry Building, Bryan Hall—new pictures of the same elms, the Hocking, the same criss-crossed campus. . . . Students of Ohio University have something to remember—the ATHENA won't let it be forgotten.

THE 1949 ATHENA

